

Living Cost Up A Little

Tax Boost Possibility Not Erased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The consumer price rise has slowed a bit since February, but not nearly enough to erase the possibility that President Johnson may seek an anti-inflation tax boost.

The Labor Department reported Thursday a climb of four-tenths of 1 per cent in the living cost index in March, following a February jump of one-half of 1 per cent.

The successive increases added up to the biggest two-month rise since 1958. But wholesale prices held steady and now have turned downward. In the week ended Tuesday they were three-tenths of 1 per cent below the February level.

Household economizing has helped somewhat. Retail pork prices dropped for the first time in four months, the department's report said, partly "because of stiffening consumer resistance to higher prices."

There was no immediate comment on the index from the White House. President Johnson has called for voluntary spending cutbacks by industry, consumers and government to ease price pressures. He also has promised to propose higher taxes if drastic measures are needed.

One administration source said "the (tax) decision will have to wait, if the indicators continue to be mixed." But Thursday's report seemed sure to intensify demands for a tax increase to siphon off some public buying power.

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said the March index "is proof that the jawbone technique the President is using to try to halt inflation — talk, talk, talk — just isn't working."

Moving To Showdown In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Rebellious Naga tribesmen armed with machine guns and mortars were reported moving through the jungles of eastern India today, possibly toward a showdown with the Indian army.

News reports reaching New Delhi from Imphal, in the eastern state of Assam, said about 1,000 armed Nagas have infiltrated into Assam's Ukhrul area, where a cease-fire had been declared by the tribesmen and the army.

The tribal fighters were reported looting villages as they advanced. They call themselves members of the army of the "Federal Government of Nagaland," a rebel movement which demands independence from India.

The Nagas and another rebellious tribe in eastern India, the Mizos, both were under suspicion as a result of an explosion which killed 55 persons and injured 120 aboard a train in Assam Wednesday night.

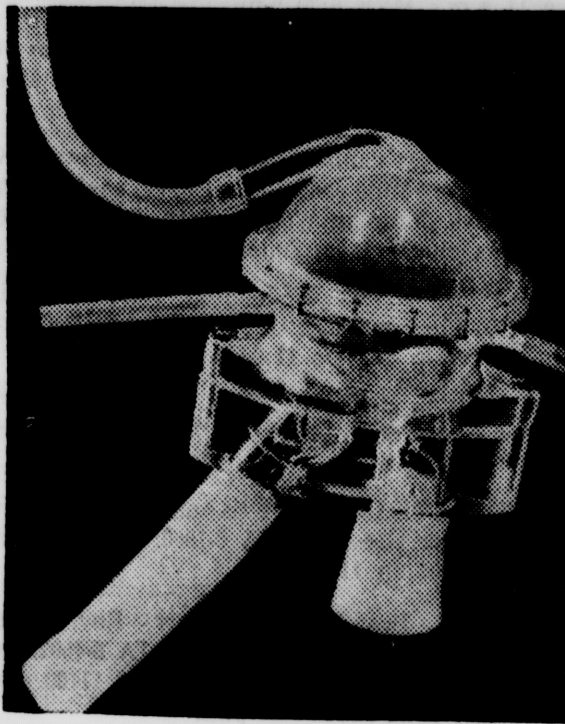

The Indian government said a time bomb had been placed in one of the train's first-class cars. But one report from the scene said the police thought it possible that explosives being smuggled into Naga territory by tribesmen went off accidentally.

Kill 257 Reds

Threaten Entire Enemy Regiment

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops threatened today to wipe out an entire Communist regiment after killing at least 257 Reds in the bloodiest fighting in a month.

Backed by artillery and air strikes, the allied battalions nailed down the mixed North Vietnamese-Viet Cong force in the scrub hills 10 miles northwest of Quang Ngai on the northern coast.

Blocking units moved in to cut off a Communist flight to the mountains in the east. U.S. officers reported from the battlefield that the Communists were caught in a trap and said the fighting was continuing.

The Communists set up a blaze of automatic-weapons fire from the villages of Binh Back and Chau Nhani, but the Leathernecks took both in their eastward drive. The rain of steel from the air reduced Communist ground fire to a minimum on the second day of the allied strike.

The battle brought government troops into a big action for the first time after weeks of political crisis.

The U.S. Air Force and Navy continued hammering at North Viet Nam, hitting military bases, roads and bridges. Air Force pilots claimed they destroyed the Lang Bun and Phu Tho railroad bridges on the Red River valley line leading northwest of Hanoi to Red China.

The Navy lost an A6 Intruder from the carrier Kitty Hawk over North Viet Nam, 12 miles north of Vinh. Pilots said they saw the plane hit by ground fire and burst into a bright flash. The pilot and his radar observer were listed as missing in action.

U.S. spokesmen did not report whether the ground fire came from conventional anti-aircraft weapons or whether it was a surface to air missile. Air Force spokesmen have been given new instructions to withhold this information.

New Change In Junior College Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Senate today accepted a House change in a bill allowing junior colleges to issue revenue bonds. The approval sends the bill to the desk of Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

The change was sponsored earlier this week by Rep. John B. McMullin, D-Butler County. It would let junior colleges use revenue bonds for dormitories as well as for social, recreational and dining facilities.

As the bill cleared the Senate earlier dormitories were exempted. But McMullin told the House a rural junior college district—such as one being set up in his area — might very well need dormitories to provide housing for students.

The Senate also advanced, 17-9, a proposed constitutional change to prevent school levies from reverting to the basic $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation whenever voters reject a higher levy.

In the final version, submitted by Sen. Earl Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, 10 per cent of the voters in a district could petition for a reduction in the school levy. Sen. William B. Waters, D-Liberty, sponsor of the original proposal, opposed Blackwell's version.

Ryan Files As Candidate For Senator

John C. Ryan, Route 3, Sedalia, this afternoon filed for State Senator from the 28th Senatorial District on the Republican ticket, subject to the August primary.

Ryan is unopposed on the Republican ticket in the district which is made up of Pettis, Cooper, Saline, Chariton, Linn and Lafayette counties. He filed at the office of the Secretary of State at 1:40 p.m.

Ryan is vice president of the Bryant Motor Co. in Sedalia. He has resided here for the past 33 years. He was Pettis County Recorder of Deeds for eight years, and for the remainder of his residency here he has been in the automobile business.

Four Firms Burglarized; No Arrests

Four Sedalia business firms felt the hand of burglars early Friday morning, with undetermined amounts of cash missing from one of them and a large amount of damage reported from another.

Police, while conducting their investigation, said only that some clues had been found. The most definite statement made by the officers indicated that the same tool had been used to pry open doors to buildings and two safes.

The four places entered were Jockey Club, Mike O'Connor Chevrolet-Buick-GMC agency, Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., plant, on South Limit and Broadway Lanes.

The Broadway Lanes burglary was the last of the four reported Friday morning. The entry was discovered apparently around 10:30 a.m. The amount of cash taken from the office safe there included at least one day's receipts, possibly two. Damage to the safe was estimated at $150 and damage to the west door, where entry was gained, was set at $25.

Burglars successfully entered the Jockey Club, 2209 South Limit, between 4:30 and 5 a.m. Friday, obtaining an estimated $120 from cigarette and bowling machines.

Officer E. L. Finnell reported checking the place about 45 (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 7)

Bids On Third Phase Of State Fair Sewer Project Are Rejected

Bids on the third phase of the State Fair sewer which were opened last Monday at the City Council meeting have been recommended by Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co. to be rejected. There were two bids opened, one for $124,641 and the other for $88,000, both well over the engineer's estimate.

The estimate of Burns and McDonnell was $68,700. Following the opening, the bids were referred to the Citizens Sewer Bond Advisory Committee and resident engineer R. W. Cunningham and Burns and McDonnell. At that time the City Council was informed by J. W. Meals, representing Burns and McDonnell, they would like to check the figures again.

Thursday Mayor Ralph H. Walker, was informed by Burns and McDonnell they recommended rejecting the bids and to have the project readvertised. The Council will have to officially act on the recommendation and pass a resolution to re-advertise the bids.

Artificial Heart Functioning Normally As Was Expected

Condition Is Reported 'Generally Satisfactory'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A 65-year-old patient with a partial artificial heart may have suffered some brain damage after a dramatic operation to save his life, doctors said today.

However, almost 24 hours after the device—about the size of a grapefruit—was implanted inside the man's chest his condition was generally reported as satisfactory.

Planned Cuts Run Afoul Of Committee

Refuse Approval Of $128-Million In Cuts Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's proposals for cuts in spending for some popular domestic programs — such as free school lunches and milk—ran afoul of the House Appropriations Committee today.

In a move expected to be upheld by the House, the committee refused to approve cuts of about $128 million proposed by the President.

Its recommendations were included in the annual appropriation bill for the Agriculture Department, which the House will consider next Tuesday.

The bill's total of $6,909,027,000 to operate the department for the fiscal year starting July 1 is $113,611,000 less than the President requested for all departmental activities but $527,578,500 more than was appropriated this year.

A large part of the committee cut—if not all of it—was in the nature of a bookkeeping transaction. The committee proposed the use for general purposes of some departmental revenues which normally would have reverted to the Treasury. These revenues come mainly from the department's 30 per cent share of customs collections.

Airmen Hurt In Accident Near Tipton

Three Airmen from the Whiteman Air Force Base were injured, two seriously, in a one-car accident on U.S. Highway 50 about a mile and a half east of Tipton about 2:30 a.m. Friday. The three were taken to Bothwell Hospital in Sedalia and then transferred to the base hospital at Whiteman.

Wayne Hatfield, 20, whose home was reported as Stanley, Ky., was in serious condition suffering from what Dr. D. R. Edwards reported as possible fractures of the nose, back, jaw and left hip, and abrasions of the left hip.

Larry Hodges, 20, whose home is Tuttle, Okla., said to have been the driver of the car, suffered a possible fracture of the jaw, several teeth knocked loose and complained of injuries to the right chest and right shoulder.

Hatfield and Hodges were transferred to the Ft. Leonard Wood Hospital Friday morning.

The trio was brought to Sedalia in the Bowlin ambulance from California, and Dr. Edwards examined them prior to their being transferred to Whiteman.

According to Hodges, he was driving the 1966 Comet tudor sedan, and he thought that he was going west.

Trooper Thomas W. Hoffman, of the Highway Patrol, California, who investigated the accident, reported the car, from the evidence where it left the highway, was headed east. The car, according to the Patrol, traveled approximately 200 feet along a ditch and dropped into a deep culvert. The automobile was demolished.

According to the Patrol report, it appeared as if the driver went to sleep, the car swerving from the right side across the pavement and off into the ditch. (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 3)

Plan Open House At Pettis Museum

Pettis County will hold open house Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. that the public may view the newly arranged museum cases in the Court House, with someone at each case to explain the contents.

There will also be pictures of early Sedalia shown by Mrs. T. H. Yount.

This, too, is the occasion for a reunion of former teachers who taught at McVey School, Sedalia's little red school house.

Admission to all events is free. James T. Denny is president of the Pettis County Historical Society.

Deny Funds For Land Acquisition

Conservation Commission Is Criticized

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Conservation Commission was strongly criticized Friday on the floor of the Senate and denied $900,000 for land acquisition for developing public recreation areas.

That amount was trimmed from the commission's capital improvement requests.

Sen. Thomas G. Woolsey, R-Versailles, tried to get it restored. But the attempt, after lengthy debate, was defeated, 11-14.

Leading the fight against the amendment was Sen. J. F. Patterson, D-Caruthersville, chairman of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee.

Patterson conceded the funds asked would have no effect on the budget, since they would come from the Conservation Commission's own fund. This money comes from the sale of hunting and fishing permits.

But Patterson claimed the commission was "arrogant" and arbitrary. He said the legislature should regain some kind of control over the commission and how it spends its money.

"We have gone playground crazy in this state," Patterson said, "and all over the country."

He said the commission buys land, taking it off the tax rolls, and then charges people for the use of it through licensing powers.

Patterson was particularly critical of what he termed the (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 8)

Warning On McCarthyism In Debating

Viet Discussions Now In Relatively Healthy Atmosphere

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., has warned against permitting "a new era of McCarthyism" to invade the debate over the Viet Nam war.

The senator, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the debate now exists in a "relatively healthy atmosphere."

But he added: "It is by no means certain that the relatively healthy atmosphere... will not give way to a new era of McCarthyism."

Fulbright called the protests against the war "a rare experience for Americans" and said they were "a mark of strength and maturity." He said they had evolved "because one's sense of decency is offended, because one is fed up with political craft and public images, or simply because something goes against the grain."

But he said Thursday night at a lecture at Johns Hopkins University's School of Advanced International Studies:

"Past experience provides little basis for confidence that reason can prevail in an atmosphere of mounting war fever..."

"The longer the Vietnamese war goes on without prospect of victory or negotiated peace, the war fever will rise, hopes will give way to fears, and tolerance and freedom of discussion will give way to a false and strident patriotism."

Fulbright said his committee's hearings on Viet Nam and China, which have been the focal point of the war policy debate, would continue.

He added: "It is my hope that this experiment will not only contribute to public education but will help to restore the Senate to its proper role as adviser to the President on the great issues of foreign policy."

In Pittsburgh, retired Army Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor denied reports questioning the preparedness of American forces in Viet Nam.

JuCo Vote Results Are Certified

The Junior College Division of the Missouri Board of Education returned certified results of the Junior College vote in Pettis-Benton County, indicating the issue passed with 5,266 in favor and 4,871 voting against establishment of the district.

Fred Davis, state JuCo division chief, told The Democrat-Capital Thursday afternoon the results, as certified, would not become official until acted upon by a quorum of the board, expected to come late this month or early in May.

A break-down on the certified results for the trustees follows:

This Sunday at 11 a. m. the New Bethel Methodist Church, located six miles south of Sedalia on U. S. Highway 65, will dedicate its church building.

The new building was erected in 1962 following the fire that destroyed the white frame church building which stood for years as a rural landmark.

The new building, located on the same site as the old one, is a modern type structure with a beautiful sanctuary capable of seating 120. It has a full basement, with a kitchen, two rest rooms, storage space, and Church School rooms which can be opened to provide a dining or reception area.

The cornerstone for the new building was laid on September 16, 1962 and the first service was held there December 16, 1962.

On the evening of February 3, 1963 Bishop Eugene M. Frank, of the Missouri Area of the Methodist Church, consecrated the new building and its furnishings.

Much hard work by the church membership and donations by the members and friends of The New Bethel Church has helped bring the building debt to a close in such a short time.

The New Bethel Methodist Church has been served by many fine and dedicated ministers in the past, but of particular note was the late Reverend E. W. Bartley, who was well known in this area and was the minister at New Bethel when the frame building was destroyed by fire. He was instrumental in the activation of the new building project and gave much of his time and effort towards its completion.

At present the church is being served by The Reverend Harry Fockle, who will conduct the dedication day services Sunday. The Reverend Dr. Herbert Hillme, Sedalia District Superintendent of Methodist Church, will bring the message and officiate at the dedication.

Also assisting in the services will be The Reverend Peter Whittier, who besides Reverend Fockle, is the only other living minister to have served the church in its new building.

Following the dedication services a basket and fellowship dinner will be held in the church basement.

FINDING THE WAY

Be Better, Not Bitter

By RALPH W. LOWE, D.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

We had been visiting the nearby YMCA camp grounds, admiring the natural setting and the excellent equipment. The caretaker took us to a barn which had been converted into a craft center. There he pointed to a nest, contrived by swallows and which had housed the little family for the season. The nest had been built on a mop, hanging on a hook on the side of the barn. It was a precarious foundation, providing a bare ledge of safety for this architecture.

Centuries earlier another watcher of swallows had wondered about the good fortune of birds in finding a home.

"How lovely is thy dwelling place,"

O Lord of hosts.
My soul longs, yea, even faints
For the courts of the Lord;
My soul and flesh sing for joy
To the living Lord.

Even the sparrow finds a home
And the swallows a nest for herself.

Where she may lay her young,
At thy altars, O Lord of hosts,
My King and my God."

A place in the temple grounds seems more secure than the top of a mop.

If the mop is removed, what then? Is God dead? When the structure of our lives topples because our plans dissolve, what then? When things go well, we sing praises, often concerning ourselves. When tragedy strikes the telegram arrives, the nest collapses, could we be sure that nothing could separate us from the love of God?

Belief in God does grant men security but we come to God not just to seek security. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness and all of these other things shall be added unto you." "The other things" are the by-product, the bonus. We don't seek the kingdom in order to get them.

The discoveries of our time emphasize the precarious nature of our existence. It is as removed and the nest totters, it is an evil event, but not a hopeless one.

When disaster strikes, it is an evil thing, but not an overwhelming one. Then, when the foundations are shaken, we are not shallow optimists; we can be realists, assessing evil as evil. Yet that same realism knows there is a sustaining power in the time of the tragedy.

These are demanding and testing days. It would be good if we could look for a solid place on the rock for our building of faith. Yet no foundation protects us from the buffeting of events. Ann Landers

Answers
Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I want to thank you for printing that letter from the man who wondered if males slow down sexually when they get older. I am 46 years old now and your answer was the only sensible information I've ever read on the subject in a newspaper or anywhere else.

About three years ago I began to slow down and I got pretty worried about it. I was afraid something serious was wrong with me. I sent away for love potions, "sex" vitamins, plus a lot of other phony junk I saw advertised in magazines. I'm ashamed to tell you how much money I threw away on stuff that didn't work.

Now that I know I'm normal I've got a lot more pep. I can't thank you enough, Ann Landers, you've been a real friend. —GRATEFUL.

Dear Grate: Some men slow down from worrying about slowing down, which is probably what happened to you. I'm glad I could help.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 17-year-old boy who is just average looking. I don't have anything special going for me, like being big in athletics or anything like that. But whenever I take a girl out a few times she goes nuts over me and I can't shake loose of her.

I hope I don't sound like some kind of an idiot, but honestly I need help. I have liked several girls but I don't want to get involved with anybody. When I date a chick three times she acts like we are engaged.

In the last eight months I have tried to break off with four different girls and I'm still getting letters and calls from all of them. What do you suggest? —BIG HEADACHE.

Dear Headache: The girls are getting encouragement from somewhere, Sonny Boy. Maybe you come on stronger than you mean to. My advice is to cool it.

Dear Ann Landers: I have two teen-age daughters (16 and 17) who feel that everything in this house is community property.

They help themselves to my combs, hairbrushes, hair rollers, stockings, panties and bras. It's always the same excuse—they can't find theirs or they didn't get around to doing the hand laundry.

When I raise the roof, my husband says, "Is a pair of stockings THAT important?" The girls smirk and I wind up looking silly.

If I'm wrong, please tell me and I'll never complain again. If he is wrong, say so and maybe with you behind me I can hang on to what belongs to me. —NOTHING TO CALL MY OWN

Dear Nothing To Call: Girls do not suddenly—at age 16 and 17—confiscate mother's property. They have been helping themselves to your things since early childhood — and getting away with it.

The time to teach kids about mine and thine is when they learn to talk. If discipline had been administered from the start you would not be having the problem now. And I must concede that dad hasn't helped much.

If you mean business tell your daughters that the next one who helps herself to your things loses all privileges for one full week. If you make it stick your problem is solved.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

WHO IS ON RELIEF?

There are some vague answers when the question of just who gets relief is posed to the average American citizen. As an example of the facts, the figures for New York City during June 1965 are broken down in the above chart. About 7 per cent of the population is reached by public assistance of one kind or another. There are 546,242 persons represented above. Biggest segment, always, is aid for dependent children.

Prison Inmates Probably Won't See Induction

WALPOLE, Mass. (AP) — The Defense Department says it is not likely to enlist or induct inmates of U.S. prisons to fight in the war in Viet Nam.

The Massachusetts State Prison, the Mentor, had suggested that inmates be paroled to serve in the armed forces, as they were in World War II.

A Defense Department spokesman said in Washington Thursday that its present policy rules out acceptance of prisoners for military service.

He said the department is "opposed to any procedure which would make the performance of military service an alternative or substitute for punishment for civil offenses."

"Members of the armed forces serve unconditionally as an obligation or privilege, either as volunteers or in response to call by government. We do not consider that it would be tolerable to equate such service with a form of penal servitude."

To Reacquire US Bombs In Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department is considering new transactions to buy back and otherwise reacquire about 500,000 bombs and artillery shells previously sold or given to West Germany, it was learned today.

The shells and bombs would go into U.S. stocks and presumably ably would be available for the war in Viet Nam.

At the same time, the Pentagon is thinking of getting back about 5 million rounds of small weapons and about 1,500 radios from the Germans.

This material would be redistributed under the military aid program to other allied and friendly countries, possibly including South Viet Nam.

The Pentagon's moves to reclaim this ordnance and equipment were disclosed in a letter from John T. McNaughton, assistant secretary of defense, to Rep. Durward G. Hall, R-Mo.

A copy of McNaughton's letter, dated March 31, became available after Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday, denying once again reports of bomb shortages.

In his letter, McNaughton said "the guiding principle on reacquisition is, of course, that we will pay no more for the material than was paid to us when it was sold."

Last week, the Defense Department acknowledged that it had bought back from a German firm 5,570 750-pound bombs at a price more than 10 times what the weapons had been sold for as surplus.

The bombs were sold to the German firm for $1.70 each and the Defense Department paid $21 apiece to get them back. It was explained that, among other things, the high price took into account expenses the German firm incurred in transporting the bombs, building facilities to remove their nitrates for fertilizer and for other business costs.

McNaughton told Hall the price of the war material to be reacquired from Germany cannot be given precisely because some of it was sold and some was furnished as grant aid.

Spy Show Will End Tonight

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It began about three years ago as an ambitious, idealistic project to explain little-known United Nations activities in dramatic entertainment form.

It comes to an end tonight with ABC's broadcast of "The Poppy Is Also a Flower," a spy story about the narcotics traffic.

But up to now, three programs in the series have been a disappointment. Paul Hoffman, director of the U.N. Special Fund, was impressed by the World War II propaganda value of the film, "Mrs. Miniver." He wanted to do something along that line for the United Nations — particularly on television.

An office equipment company — Xerox — was found to sponsor the effort by setting up a nonprofit, tax-free corporation with $4 million to finance the programs. Writers, producers, directors and stars, according to the plan, would happily work for minimum salaries in a worthy cause.

But what looked great on paper developed bugs in operation. Edgar Rosenberg, a theatrical producer turned public relations executive, was put in charge and recalls some of the headaches.

"We lined up some important names not normally available to television," he said. "Then we found it was almost impossible to get them together at the time they were needed."

"At one time we lined up 15 stars for one show," Rosenberg said. "And we wound up with just two of them."

Terence Young of James Bond fame, was set to direct tonight's special, but the starting date had to be postponed four times because of his other work. This delay in turn made it necessary to fly one of the stars, Marcello Mastroianni, from Rome to the Riviera after his stage performance on a Saturday night. He worked for 24

Science Of Double Talk Greatest Social Art Yet

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Do people cross the street when they see you coming?

Do they yawn when you start to speak? Do they squirm, fidget or flee in terror when you open your mouth?

These are all signs that you haven't mastered double-talk, the greatest social art of the 20th century.

It is simply a matter of saying exactly what you don't mean, and meaning exactly what you don't say.

For your guidance here are a few typical examples of modern, everyday double-talk followed by their literal translations:

"So sorry, Molly, I brushed my cigarette against your new dress." What I would far rather do is pour a plate of beef stew on it.

"I don't know what we'd do without this little place in the country." Probably live in the city and really enjoy life, I suppose.

"We feel that we have an up and coming community." Next year we're installing lights in the cemetery.

"I tell you what let's do. Let's play charades." Anything to get these bums out of the kitchen. We're running out of liquor.

"Well, if you feel it was against your principles, senator, I can understand why you didn't back my bill." But when you want a vote for that new dam in your state, pal, don't come crawling to me.

"Before I pass out the final exam questions, students, I want to remind you that here we all operate under the honor system." That's why I have stationed three assistants around the room — to see that you don't cheat.

"After all, money isn't everything." There are also things like stocks and bonds, diamonds, real estate and a good credit rating.

"You look so svelte and slim, Marge. What's your secret?" Even that $49.50 girdle can't hide those six malted milks a day.

"We're sending Debbie to a new school next year. It's supposed to be very exclusive. It only takes students that have flunked out of other schools.

Oh Jane, I've never tasted such a yummy sauce. You'll just have to let me have the recipe." Then, when I stop at the hospital on the way home, the doctors will at least know what antidote to give me.

"Do I think the difference in our ages will make any real difference? Of course not, you sweet old silly." When a girl marries a guy with one foot in the grave, she's got the battle half won.

"Well, well, well. And where have you been hiding? Wherever it was, go back and hide there some more.

Accidents

No apparent injuries were received in a two-vehicle collision on West Highway 50, eight-tenths of a mile west of Johnson County Road P at 1:15 p.m. Thursday, the Highway Patrol reported.

Involved were a 1961 Dodge, driven north, by Letha Ellen Williams, 72, Windsor, and a west-bound 1961 Chrysler driven by James Daniel Giokaris, 1123 West Seventh.

The patrol said the accident occurred after the Giokaris vehicle left the pavement. The Chrysler collided with the right side of the Dodge.

Two vehicles were in collision at 10:03 a.m. Friday at Second and Kentucky. There were no apparent injuries.

Involved were a 1966 Chevrolet driven north on Kentucky by Ronnie Ditzfeld, 801 East 13th, and a 1965 Plymouth driven east on Second by Ralph E. Wiebrock, Route 2.

Police Reports

Sedalia police reported Thursday evening that Cynthia Ann Piers, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Piers, 107 South Quincy, was picked up by Windsor police after being missing from her home since April 15.

Also taken into custody was the girl's companion.

Sedalia police informed the girl's parents that she had been found and she was released to her parents late Thursday.

Walley Lee Calvert, Sedalia, was arrested by Sedalia police early Friday on charges of careless and imprudent driving and attempting to elude police officers in a case in which a local police car, pursuing another vehicle, was damaged in an accident northeast of Sedalia March 15.

Calvert is free on a $100 signed bond, police records indicate.

Police took into custody Thursday two juveniles who, it was reported, were attempting to gain entrance at a house at 916 South Kentucky. The boys were talked to by officers.

A boy's 26-inch red bicycle was abandoned on a front porch at 507 East 18th Thursday evening. Police brought the bike to the police station.

Police received a call at 9:30 a.m. Thursday to 15th and Osage where a sign requesting help was found hanging in a window. Investigation failed to show any evidence of occupancy.

Circuit Court

Ronald Viebrock, 20, Mora, was sentenced to two years to the State Department of Corrections by Circuit Judge Frank Hayes after pleading guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. After sentencing the defendant filed an appeal for parole which was granted during good behavior.

A 1965 Mustang which Viebrock was driving was in collision with a bicycle ridden by Lloyd Harmon at the intersection of Tower and Heard on Oct. 2, 1965. The Harmon youth died as a result of injuries received in the accident.

Mary Rose Randall filed petition for divorce from Charles Randall in Circuit Court Thursday. William F. Brown is attorney for plaintiff.

James Leonard Shepard filed petition for divorce from Betty Lou Shepard in Circuit Court Thursday. Hazel Palmer represented the plaintiff.

Mrs. Mabel Janette Rahm, Warrensburg, found guilty in Circuit Court March 21 of driving 77 miles an hour in a 70-mile-an-hour zone and fined $86 by the jury. Thursday filed motion for a new trial.

The latest action is another extension in Mrs. Rahm's three-year battle against the use of radar by Highway Patrol officers to check speed. Mrs. Rahm has been fighting a Magistrate Court conviction and $25 fine, plus costs, since July 25, 1963.

The original arrest was made by Trooper Pete Stohr and Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, who used radar to clock Mrs. Rahm driving in excess of the stated limit.

In the last Circuit Court go-around, Mrs. Rahm, through her attorney Will F. Berry, Jr., Versailles, contended that the use of radar was not conclusive since the instrument had not been proven in perfect operating order.

Robber
Is Ready To Talk

LONDON (AP) — For the first time since the great train robbery nearly three years ago, a member of the gang today was reported ready to talk.

A Scotland Yard detective said James Edward White, who was captured Thursday, told detectives, "I am only too pleased to tell you all about it."

The arrest of the former Commando spurred the hunt for four other members of the gang still at large. Two, like White, have been missing since the $7.2-million mail robbery on Aug. 8, 1963. Only $758,000 of the loot has been recovered.

White, 46, a former British army paratrooper, was arrested in the small resort of Littleton-On-Sea, 70 miles from London, where he had lived for 18 months with his wife and 4-year-old son under an assumed name. A phone call from an unknown woman led detectives to him.

White was brought under heavy police guard today to a court in the small town of Linslade, in Bedfordshire, about three miles from the scene of the robbery.

Wearing a white sweater, speckled sport jacket, light blue jeans and dark glasses, he sat quietly in the courtroom as the detective chief, Supt. Thomas Butler, head of Scotland Yard's flying squad, testified that White told him he was "getting to the end of his tether" and tired of being on the run.

Butler said White readily admitted he was in the robbery gang and told detectives: "I am only too pleased to tell you all about it. I was on that job. I was in the coach when the money was nicked (stolen) and at Leatherslade farm afterwards."

The farm was where police said the gang divided up the loot and then dispersed. All those that have been caught have maintained a wall of silence.

Defense lawyer Maurice Lesser told the court that White intended to surrender to police this weekend.

After the brief court hearing, White was hurried into a police car and driven to Bedford Prison.

He was ordered held for another hearing next Friday.

Police hoped White's disclosures and the renewed publicity would put them on the trail of the other four wanted men whose photographs are on display outside every police station in Great Britain.

Two of them, Ronald Arthur Biggs, 35, and Charles Wilson, 32, were snatched last year by armed gangs from separate jails where they were serving 30-year terms.

One police theory is that they were kidnapped by crooks after the loot and may now be dead.

Reynolds, who is believed to have been the robbery's chief planner, had a close call last year when police raided a London apartment. He and his wife persuaded the cops they were illicit lovers and vanished once the officers moved on.

Ten other gang members have been sentenced to terms ranging up to 30 years. Most were captured soon after the robbery. One, racing driver Roy James, was caught three months later in a chase over West London rooftops. He was carrying more than $33,600 in a suitcase.

Youth Counseling
Service Is Held

Counseling service for 29 Neighborhood Youth Corps enrollees was held Thursday at the Missouri State Fairgrounds under the direction of Missouri Human Resources Counselor Charles Estill.

Three guests spoke to the enrollees. They were Fair Secretary W. C. Askew, who emphasized the importance of doing a good job; Chief of Police William E. Miller, who spoke on respect for law and order; Hardy Cobb, Missouri University Extension youth agent, who stressed wise spending and saving habits.

Also present were men and women from the University Extension Child Enrichment Program. They were introduced as were E. F. Strickler and Charles Ramseyer, supervisor and ground foreman respectively for the fairgrounds.

Twin Forks Scouts
Help Plant Trees

Boy Scouts of the Twin Forks District will have an opportunity to help the Missouri Department of Conservation in planting pine trees within the new Marshall Junction Wildlife Area.

Boy Scouts interested in helping in this project will be able to credit this work in earning their Soil and Water Conservation Merit Badge, which is a mandatory requirement in becoming an Eagle Scout.

The seedlings will be planted Saturday afternoon at 1:30. Those scouts interested should arrive at the site prior to 1:30.

The way to reach the location is to go north on Highway 65 to the junction of county road CC and go west on that road to the second road, and there turn north for approximately two miles.

minutes before he found the break-in while riding with Sgt. Perry Franklin. After Finnell drove Franklin home about 25 minutes before 5 a.m. he started making a back check of business firms.

As he drove around the Jockey Club he thought he noticed the back door shake, but about that time received a call from Lt. Jewell Riley to check on a car on Highway 65 and went to make the check, stopped the car about 18th Street and checked the man in the vehicle. He then returned to the Jockey Club and as he went around the place again found the rear door standing open and then radioed for Lt. Riley to come to the scene.

Jack Austin, who had been summoned to the place, reported he thought the two machines contained about $120. The pay telephone was also ripped open, but the money box was not bothered, apparently because it was unlocked and the money had been removed the night before.

An attempt to gain entrance to the storage room was made by the thieves, but they were unable to pry open the two locks on the iron door.

While checking the place, police received an apparently false emergency call that an accident had occurred on Broadway about a block and a half

Garden Club Activities

Garden Club No. 4, met Friday, April 15, at the home of Mrs. Larry Judd, 500 South Carr, with Mrs. E. J. Hess, Mrs. Roy Duncan and Mrs. Floyd Knerl assisting in serving a dessert course to 16 members and one guest, Mrs. E. J. Pflughoeft.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. C. R. Walker, vice-president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Walker read parts of the Missouri Wild Flower resolution from the manual, preceding the introduction of the guest speaker, Mrs. Pflughoeft.

Mrs. Pflughoeft said that almost any flower can be called a wild flower depending on the location of its growth. She named different species used for medicinal purposes, for salads and for cooking greens, as well as the many different herbs used in seasoning as well as the poisonous ones.

She also told of the many different and beautiful flowers she saw on a trip to Mt. Ranier, passing around pictures she had taken.

Awards for exhibits went to Mrs. Ray Duncan, first; Mrs. Larry Judd, second; Mrs. J. L. Hiltentberg, third and in horticulture, Mrs. C. R. Walker, first; Mrs. W. L. Weinrich, second.

Mrs. Ida Harriman and Mrs. Ralph McCowan were named delegates to the annual convention to be held on the campus of Northwest Missouri State College at Maryville with Mrs. J. L. Hiltentberg and Mrs. R. L. Weinrich alternates.

An invitation was read from the Green Ridge Garden Club to attend an iris program which will be held at the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church on May 11, at 1 p. m., at which a representative from Kansas City will speak on the varieties and culture. Also an invitation from the Whiteman Officers Club to attend its flower show on May 4, at 1 p. m. on "Global Splendor."

Missouri Cities See Cost Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—The cost of living in Missouri's two metropolitan areas—Kansas City and St. Louis—has gone up nearly three per cent in the past year.

The regional office of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Thursday the consumer price index for March is 2.9 per cent above the level of April in 1965 in Kansas City and 2.8 per cent higher in St. Louis.

Compared with a year ago, all major groups are higher.

In Kansas City the increases are food 6.8 per cent; transportation 3.4; apparel and upkeep 3.2; health and recreation 2.4 and housing 0.1 per cent.

In St. Louis the increases are listed as food 7.0 per cent; housing 1.3; apparel and upkeep 2.3; transportation 1.4; and health and recreation 1.1.

The Kansas City area represents Clay and Jackson counties in Missouri, Johnson and Wyandotte counties in Kansas.

The St. Louis area includes St. Louis city, Jefferson, St. Charles and St. Louis counties in Missouri and Madison and St. Clair counties in Illinois.

The consumer price index for March advanced 0.6 per cent from December to 115.3 in Kansas City. The March index stands at 112.1 for St. Louis, up 0.5 per cent from the December index.

Pruett Is Named Police Chiefs' Group Leader

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Allen S. Pruett of Bellefontaine Neighbors, a suburb of St. Louis, was elected president Thursday night of the Missouri Police Chiefs' Association.

The group ended a three-day convention, meeting jointly with the Missouri Juvenile Officers Association training institute.

Others elected by the police chiefs: Vice presidents, G. W. Livingston, North Kansas City; August H. Piotraschke, Frontenac; William R. Barker, Eldon; David W. Farquharson, Hazelwood; Calvin O. Granne-man of Hermann; and Pete Giacomelli, Brentwood. James Damos, University City, was named treasurer and S. V. Bramlett of Rolla, secretary.

The juvenile officers training group named Sgt. Harry Kone-mann of Kirkwood president; Sgt. Marget Worman of St. Louis County, vice president; Sgt. Charles Mueller, St. Louis, treasurer; Sgt. George Schwartz, Hazelwood, recording secretary; and Lt. Kenneth Beck, North Kansas City, sergeant-at-arms.

HOW CAN THE DEAD RETURN TO LIFE?

It's difficult for many people to believe that the dead will rise as Christ promised.

The common question is: "How can the human body, decomposed and broken into countless atoms be restored?" On the surface this is a reasonable doubt. But if you ask this question, are you taking into account the immeasurable power of God?

If God can overcome nothingness to give us human bodies, can he not also overcome death and dissolution to restore them? How God will do this is just as difficult to understand as how he created the wonders of nature we see all about us.

HISTORICAL PROOF—The fact that God intends to resurrect the dead is verified by the undeniable testimony of history. Christ promised that man, like Himself, would return from the dead and live again forever.

When he proved his prediction and returned from beyond the grave, his reappearance was witnessed by the apostles... and on one occasion by more than 500 people!

WHAT CATHOLICS BELIEVE—Catholic beliefs about what will happen after death differ from those of other Christians. If you are a fellow Christian and would like to understand why Catholics believe as they do, you will find the free Knights of Columbus pamphlet entitled "What Happens After Death" most revealing.

If you do not formally belong to any Church group, you might find in the pages of this literature sound reasons for becoming a practicing Christian... for among the questions it probes are:

What will man be like after his resurrection? Why does man go through two judgments? What kind of an existence can we expect in the next world? For a free copy of "What Happens After Death", simply mail the coupon. The pamphlet will be sent in a plain wrapper and no one will call on you.

Mariners Club Holds International Dinner

An international progressive dinner was enjoyed April 17, by the Broadway Presbyterian Mariners Club. Couples began the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith, 1009 Sylvia Drive, where West Indian decorations and steel band music set the mood. Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who lived for two years in Barbados, B.W.I., served a traditional West Indian soup, "Callaloo."

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Riekhof, 2305 South Kentucky, hosted the salad course. They served "Hawaiian Bananas" in an atmosphere of palm trees and tropical flowers.

The main course, Japanese "Sweet and Sour Pork," was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quigg, 1309 West Fourth. Couples were seated at tables decorated in a Japanese motif using Japanese dolls and spring flowers. Japanese music added an authentic touch.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cain, 1112 South Warren, greeted the group in Mexican attire. Mrs. Cain had prepared a Mexican confection, "Almondado," for dessert.

After dinner, the club members viewed slides of National Mariners Cruises, narrated by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson of Lexington. Sandra Parkhurst presented the devotion, followed by a short business meeting. Mr. and Mrs. James Giokaris are skippers of the club.

Check Booze in the Breath

Intoxication is measured by the percentage of alcohol in the blood. Based on this, as determined by a chemical test, Missouri's drinking driver law sets certain limits. Below 0.05% (about 2 or 3 drinks) a defendant is presumed to be sober. If there is more than that percentage and less than 0.15% no presumptions are made either way. With a blood-alcohol level of 0.15% or higher, a subject is presumed to be intoxicated.

This was what Sergeant Robert Place of the Missouri Highway Patrol, Lee's Summit, told Kiwanians during demonstration of a breath testing device, assisted by Sergeant Ernest W. VanWinkle of Sedalia.

There is a great deal more to the scientific formulas than mentioned as was shown in a blackboard lesson of figures that would make modern math seem elementary.

Since the highway patrolmen began demonstrations to acquaint the public with functions of a breath testing machine, universal interest is apparent among drivers of motor vehicles.

While the subject was being discussed by Sergeant Place there was not a sleepy-eyed Kiwanian in the audience. This is something of a record during an after lunch service club program. This certainly indicates intense interest in application of the new law. The program over ran regular adjournment by 15 minutes.

Emphasized by the patrolmen was the fact that chemical test evidence of drunk drivers provides the only positive proof of intoxication and therefore serves to exonerate the innocent and bring the guilty to justice.

Auto drivers accustomed to taking too many snorts of intoxicants are not only unhappy but also uneasy about this new breath-testing business. Some opposition has arisen which may result in a few legal tests of the breath tests.

In the meantime a driver, who is placed under arrest for a traffic offense and is suspected of intoxication, may refuse to take the test. However, such refusal can result in loss of driving privileges.

The impact of the chemical test law in Missouri is yet to be felt in full measure but it will be before long as enforcement is accelerated and insisted upon.

A public attitude of support for the chemical test law will ultimately be one of the important means of lessening the tragic toll on Missouri highways week after week.

Taxes Hanging Over Johnson's Head

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This year taxes are going to hang over President Johnson like an umbrella or a club.

Taxes may go up.

If they don't, then in the congressional elections Johnson can say, "We got along without them." If they do, Republicans will blame them on him.

When Congress cut taxes in 1964 and 1965, that was supposed to settle things for quite a while. But the costs of the Vietnamese war came along.

Then living costs began inching up.

In February they went up one-half of 1 per cent. Thursday came the news that in March they had bumped their way up a bit again, this time four-tenths of 1 per cent.

This was just a modest increase compared with February. But it was still a continued rise. And it was in March that Johnson indicated he might have to ask Congress to boost taxes as an antiinflation move if living costs kept going up.

As a politician he knew this was sheer poison. But as a politician he knew this had an antidote.

If, after fussing about the possibility of a tax increase, there was no great increase in living costs and therefore no tax increase, he could claim credit for a great achievement by his Democratic administration.

Meanwhile, he worked at it, pressing labor to keep down its wage demands and business to keep down prices and new construction.

He said at the time about new taxes: "We don't want to act prematurely. We don't want to put the brakes on too fast."

This was a great big nudge to practically everybody about throwing money around. In case they didn't feel his elbow, he tried a few more pokes.

He said most of his advisers were talking of three alternatives: government controls, a federal spending cut of $5 billion to $10-billion or a tax increase of roughly $5 billion. This really took in everybody.

But he said no one likes controls. And he said he does not believe federal spending can be cut very much without hurting "necessary or popular programs that Congress would go along with."

That left the option of a possible tax boost.

Then some Republicans were heard.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, said "I'm certainly not going to support any tax increase as long as the administration continues to press for expenditures that can be deferred." He called some of those expenditures "boon-doggles," such as funds for a new teacher corps and rent subsidy programs.

And Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said the President was in for a tug-of-war with Republicans and conservative Democrats who will fight to cut spending rather than increase taxes.

Practically nothing has been heard from Johnson since about taxes.

to be playing. No one can be 100 per cent right in practice.

If you remember yesterday's hand you will note that today we have exactly the same North cards and almost exactly the same South cards. The only difference is that South has slightly lower spot cards in hearts. He decides to open with three hearts only and receives the same diamond opening and diamond return.

Now suppose you are South. You see that you will make your contract if you can get away with the loss of only two heart tricks. You lead out the ace of hearts and drop the four and deuce so that at the point you miss the King, jack, nine and eight.

You can't get away without losing at least two heart tricks. Which card should you play to give yourself the best chance to lose only two?

You note that any play succeeds if the remaining hearts are divided 2-2, and that no play will work if divided 4-0. You also realize that if either opponent holds a singleton nine or eight, no play will work.

Thus your play can only mean something if you are playing against either a singleton jack or king and a little study will show that a low card play will hold you to two losers against either of those singletons. The queen play will cost you against a singleton king and the ten against a singleton jack. Hence either a queen or ten lead is a nothing play. A low card lead is correct.

When Parent Can't Win

by Susan Light,
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: You are so wrong in telling "Feuding Parent" to let her son fight his own battles.

How can a student fight a battle with a poor teacher? You can't condone the attitude of the teacher but, as usual, the parent is wrong.

What then are we to do? What can our children think of us as parents if we don't at least try to do something about an unfair situation? I've tried your system of starting with the teacher. She talked down to me as if I had no business bothering her. Then I went to the guidance counselor. His hands were tied.

Next my husband and I went to the principal, who would not even consider transferring our daughter to another teacher. We followed this visit with a talk with the county school superintendent, who said he'd investigate the situation.

After all this, we were told that this teacher was unqualified for science but they couldn't replace her. By that time it was too late to transfer our daughter to another teacher. Well, she flunked the course and had to take it in summer school.

I might add that her difficulty with this teacher brought down grades in math and geography as well. The teacher has been retained for another year even though one-third of her students failed.—DISILLUSION-ED

ANSWER: Teen-agers, I believe, should untie the apron strings by handling their own school problems whenever possible. They have to learn from experience when it's wise to push their cause and when it's better simply to accept a seemingly unfair situation and make the best of it.

In trying to help your daughter, you apparently ran into a brick wall. All question of right and wrong aside she might have been better off if you had expended your time and energy tutoring her or having her tutored. It appears that you were more concerned with tearing down the teacher than building up your daughter.

Where there's a teacher shortage, a parent often can't win regardless of the merits of his case. All employers, including school boards, are forced to put up with inferior personnel when qualified workers aren't available.

In such circumstances, a parent's best move is to minimize the effects of poor teaching by providing extra help at home.

Vision Adjusts After Cataract Removal

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—How soon after a successful cataract removal is sight restored to the eye?

A—It is customary to keep the eye bandaged for about 10 days after such an operation. When the bandage is removed, vision is restored but may be distorted due to the loss of the lens. In some persons, this can be corrected by wearing a contact lens in addition to the glasses previously worn. In those who are unable to wear a contact lens, there is a gradual readjustment of binocular vision with a change in the prescribed glasses.

Q—Is it possible successfully to remove a cataract from an eye that has already had a detached retina?

A—Yes. The retina and the lens are completely separate structures.

Q—Is it possible to remove a cataract by freezing instead of cutting?

A—It is possible by freezing instead of squeezing. The use of a sub-freezing extractor has several advantages over the older method but it does not eliminate the necessity of cutting through the hard outer capsule of the eyeball.

Q—Every time I take two or three aspirins for a cold, dark red blotches appear on my arms. What can I do for this?

A—In persons who are hypersensitive to aspirin such a rash is common. This is a mild form of aspirin poisoning rather than a true allergy. Most persons who take aspirin for minor complaints take two or three when they would get a better result with less danger of poisoning if they took only one tablet and repeated the dose not often than every four hours. Of course, much larger doses are needed in the treatment of arthritis or rheumatic fever. If you use the smaller dose, however, and still get a rash, you should switch to another drug.

Q—Will aspirin cause an increase in blood pressure?

A—No, and it will not lower it either.

Q—Is there any danger in taking buffered aspirin and Darvon together three times a day for years? They relieve the backache and discomfort I have with a prolapsed uterus. My doctor says an operation is the only way to correct it but he will not do this because of my age. I am 80.

A—These two drugs can be taken together but it is unusual for anyone to need both. Age alone is no longer valid reason to refuse surgery, thanks to antibiotics, improved surgical technique and modern pre- and post-operative care.

Washington Viewpoint

Soft-Pedal Congressmen's Largesse

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Ever since Harry Truman accepted a deep freeze there has been much discussion of gifts to public officials, but generally the discussion has been one-sided.

It has been about Democratic presidents, not Republicans; and about members of the executive branch of government, not congressmen.

The deep freeze, valued at about $1,200, was given to Mrs. Truman by a Milwaukee contractor in 1946, through HST's military aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan. More recently, a stereo set valued at around $800 was given to President Johnson by an insurance salesman through a then Senate secretary, Bobby Baker.

Both gifts became the subject of Senate inquiries and tremendous national interest. The news was splashed all over front pages.

Much greater immunity has been given to gifts to members of Congress. Almost never do they investigate themselves. However, the law applies to them as well as to executive officials and the courts have ruled that gifts must be counted as compensation if the recipient performed any service for them either before or after acceptance. This has been applied even to free transportation and free vacations.

The law prohibits a congressman from accepting compensations "for any services rendered . . . in relations to any proceeding, contract, claim, controversy, charge, accusation, arrest, or other matter" before the government.

Dodd's Roll Call

Neither President Truman nor President Johnson gave any service for their celebrated gifts. This has not always been true of members of Congress. Unquestionably the most notorious gift-taker has been Sen. Tom Dodd, D-Conn., and a check-up on his gifts shows that he has sometimes rendered service. Incidentally, we do not believe the great majority of other senators engage in this practice. Here is part of the Dodd record.

SAPPHIRE RING — Edgar Parser, New York diamond dealer, gave Mrs. Dodd a sapphire ring. Shortly thereafter, she lost the stone out of the ring. Dodd asked Parser for a new sapphire, which he got.

Sen. Dodd tried to have Parser appointed U.S. ambassador to Belgium, later U.S. ambassador to Luxembourg. Parser was more successful in supplying two sapphires than Dodd was in securing either one of two ambassadorial appointments.

FOOTWEAR — Most of the Dodd family has been outfitted with footwear, from boots to tennis shoes, by the Goodyear Company at Middletown, Conn. When the tariff was cut on the importation of foreign footwear, Sen. Dodd vigorously opposed the cut.

HAIR DRYERS — Mrs. Dodd received a gift of two hair dryers from General Electric for a charity auction. When the dryers arrived she liked them so much that she kept one for herself and gave one to a friend.

TELEVISION SET — This was given to the senator by Florence Lowe, an executive of Metromedia TV stations at the time Dodd was investigating the violence on television. Dodd thereafter gave Mrs. Lowe's ordered his aides to stop their investigation of Metromedia.

WALL-TO-WALL CARPETING—This rich blue carpeting in Dodd's country place at North Stonington, Conn., came from New has boasted to aides that the carpeting cost him nothing. He arranged a presidential pardon at Symon's request for the latter's friend, Philip Levine, convicted of income tax evasion.

Symon, when queried by this column, insisted that Dodd had paid the wholesale price for the carpeting. Asked how the payment was made, Symon replied "by personal check." When Symon was told there was no record in Dodd's accounting of a check to Symon, he shouted, "It's none of your business!" and hung up the phone.

CLOCKS — The senator, a collector of clocks, has a large number in his North Stonington home from the Ingraham Company, which sent him a catalogue and told him to take his pick. Dodd arranged a $1,000,000 area development loan for the company's new plant in Bristol, Conn.

Wesley Souger, president of Ingraham, admitted the senator had obtained "several" clocks from the company but claimed Dodd paid wholesale prices for all but one. This had been a gift.

SILVERWARE — Ralph Bertin, recently retired president of International Silver, acknowledged that the company had replated some of Dodd's silverware. He also acknowledged that he had persuaded Dodd to intervene at the White House for high silver tariffs.

AIR-CONDITIONED OLDSMOBILE — We reported earlier that Dunbar Associates supplied Dodd with an air-conditioned Olds in 1964. A new angle has now developed, namely a brand new 1966 Olds has been delivered to the senator. It is still registered in the company's name. Dodd has secured government contracts for Dunbar Associates.

FOREIGN GIFTS — When Sen. Dodd and wife visited Korea last year, they received so many presents — Oriental handicraft, silks, jewelry, silk screen, a hand-carved table—that the gifts were sent home by boat and two of the senator's aides had to make two trips to Baltimore to bring them to Washington.

Shortly thereafter Dodd delivered a Senate speech hailing President Park of Korea as a "great modern statesman under whose administration Korea has been blessed with political stability and with an almost miraculous degree of social and economic progress."

Missionary Society Discusses Convention

Olive Branch Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Ricks on April 13 for the regular monthly meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president and minutes of the last regular meeting, held in February at the home of Mrs. Charles Blaylock, were read.

The April business meeting was held and a report of WMU State Convention was given by Mrs. Gordon Ricks. They were dismissed for lunch with prayer by Mrs. Oleah Jones.

The afternoon session program chairman in charge opened the meeting by singing "Open My Eyes That I May See." The topic for the afternoon was New Foreign Mission Fields. Nine members attended the meeting.

BERRY'S WORLD

Free-Will Giving Is Cash Key

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Tithes, pledges, every-member canvasses, bequests, special appeals. These are words from the lexicon of financing today among American religious institutions.

The key of the system is free-will giving.

And to a substantial degree, it works. In modern times, it also has sharpened its principles and techniques.

Americans, according to the latest figures, give about $10.6 billion annually to philanthropic causes, about half of it, or $5.2 billion, to specifically religious purposes, including aid to the needy.

"No other people anywhere, or at any time, has devoted so much of its means to voluntary responsibility, for the welfare of one's fellow men," says Max B. Fisher, of Detroit, chairman of the United Jewish Appeal.

He told a New York dinner meeting honoring him this week that the "American emphasis on sharing" is rooted in its Judeo-Christian heritage, upholding the ideal, "I am my brother's keeper."

For the last quarter century, the volume of contributions has risen steadily.

"Americans are not only giving more, they are giving in greater proportion to their incomes," says the American Association of Fund-raising Council, Inc.

For example, the association says that giving averaged 1.97 per cent of disposable income in 1950, and that the most recent figures show it has increased to 2.45 per cent.

The bulk of the contributions — 80 per cent of the total — come from individuals, rather than corporations.

Spring is the season when major religious bodies make their special drives for funds to carry on relief work abroad — the Roman Catholic Bishop's Relief Fund, the Inter-Protestant Church World Service and the United Jewish Appeal.

These programs, since World War II, have resettled millions of refugees, and fed and clothed impoverished masses in many regions. Just now, several emergency church campaigns are on to aid famine victims in India.

Aside from the relief activities, keeping the ecclesiastical wheels turning at home also is a multibillion-dollar operation, and various means have evolved over the years for doing it.

In recent years, various new approaches have developed.

One is the promotion of life-time bequests, by which donors bestow property on the churches under terms by which they continue drawing income from it during their lives, with resultant tax advantages to them.

Use of professional fund-raising firms also has spread rapidly among congregations and religious organizations.

The ancient Biblical "tithe," giving a tenth of income, also has been introduced anew in thousands of parishes across the country, both Roman Catholic and Protestant.

Often, the emphasis is simply on regular "proportionate giving," with the exact percentage left up to individual conscience.

Predominantly, the main tool of church financing has become the annual membership canvasses, in which pledges of weekly gifts are sought from each member, as a reflection of the dedication of the person — not just his money — to God's work.

Eldon Schlesselman, 1804 So. Park, will represent Christ Lutheran Church as Lay Delegate to the annual convention of the Central District of The American Lutheran Church April 25-28 at Estes Park, Colo. Pastor Ron Beckman will also represent Christ Lutheran, W. 11th and Thompson Blvd., at the convention.

Site of the convention will be the 1220 acre Y.M.C.A. Conference Center of the Rockies. Over 500 delegates are expected for the four-day Convention. Convention theme will be, "God's Word For Today's World."

Headlining the program will be Dr. Fredrik Schiote and Dr. Arthur E. Hanson. Dr. Schiote, President of the 2,500,000 member American Lutheran Church and President of the Lutheran World Federation, will attend the Convention and give his "State of the Church" message. Dr. Hanson, past president of the Northern Minnesota District of the ALC, will address the Convention twice on the subject of "The Church."

Convention business will include election of a District President. Dr. Erwin G. Fritschel, Denver, Colo., is completing a six-year term as District President. The Central District comprises 260 congregations in the five-state area of Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Mauk, Brown Vows Exchanged

Miss Denise Lynn Mauk, daughter of MSgt. and Mrs. Harold Mauk, Homestead, Fla., became the bride of A1C Robert Alan Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude R. Brown, Route 5, at four o'clock in the afternoon, March 21 at the Homestead AFB chapel.

The chaplain, Major Charles E. Hadlock, solemnized the double ring ceremony before the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Mauk wore a ballerina length gown of white organza and lace, styled with a fitted bodice, with long sleeves and a bateau neckline and bouffant skirt. She wore a white satin pillbox hat with a half veil. She carried a white satin Bible with a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. White satin pumps completed her outfit.

Mrs. Claude Lippineath was matron of honor. MSgt. Claude Lippineath was best man.

Following the reception at the home of the bride's parents the couple left for a wedding trip in Miami, Fla.

The bride was graduated in 1962 and has been employed at the Homestead AFB. The bridegroom is a 1962 graduate of Hughesville High School and has served in the Air Force the past 3½ years.

The couple is at home at Patrick AFB, Fla., where Mr. Brown is stationed.

Jehovah's Witnesses Convention

Harold G. Matson, presiding minister of the Sedalia congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses announces that Andrew Laguna, a New York minister, will head the three-day circuit conference of Jehovah's Witnesses scheduled for May 6-8 at the Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg. Laguna was appointed to the post by the Watchtower Bible Society, sponsors of the gathering.

Laguna will serve as chairman and principal speaker for the convention, appearing on the program each day. He will open the week-end conference on Friday evening with his keynote address, "Make Disciples of People of All Nations," based on Matthew 28:19, 20. This will set the theme for the meeting.

Immediately following, Laguna will conduct a ministry school program similar to those held in each congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. Several persons will participate in giving student talks on the program.

Saturday afternoon, Laguna will speak on "Dedication and Baptism," at which time several are expected to be immersed in symbol of their decision to do God's will.

On the Saturday evening program, Laguna will discuss the ministry activities of the attending ministers from the 16 Mid-Missouri congregations represented. He will use the theme, "Examining Our Ministry." He will then direct a program, "Starting and Continuing Bible Studies," which will emphasize the importance of home Bible studies.

Laguna's principal address will be given at 3 p.m. Sunday, May 8, on the subject, "Does God Have Influence in this 20th Century?" He will bring the assembly to a conclusion with his talk, "What Comes First in Your Life?"

Convention officials expect about 650 persons to attend this conference. All sessions will be held at the Central Missouri State College Auditorium.

New Plan Studied By Jesuits

By RICHARD DAW

MEXICO CITY. — (AP) — A group of Jesuit priests in Mexico is developing a variation of Europe's worker-priest program which could set a pattern for much of Latin America.

The priests call their project the Centro Laboral Mexico—the Mexico Work Center.

Its aim is to draw Mexico's workers, beset by leftist influence through labor unions, closer to the Roman Catholic Church social teachings by attacking poverty and ignorance on all fronts.

"If we remove the conditions which breed communism, we won't have to worry about it," says the center's assistant director, the Rev. William F. Deeney, one of several American priests assigned here.

To do that, the center is conducting a program that tries to do everything from teach a man skills which he can use in industry, to provide a school for his children, a health clinic for him and his family, and even counseling in planning the family budget.

From 60 factories, more than 2,000 workers have gone through week-long retreats in which they have heard — perhaps for the first time — priests talk of matters other than religion.

About 300 men are working in skilled jobs now after having been trained at the center's trade school. Seven hundred children attend the center's grammar and high school, and a new $160,000 high school is being built.

Hundreds get medical attention at the center's clinic. Dozens have started small businesses with loans from the center's credit union. Some even are buying houses — an almost impossible achievement for the average Mexican working man — with help from the center in budget planning.

Instead of working alongside the men as French priests started doing in their worker-priest program, the Jesuits here go into factories to say Mass, offer counseling, and provide help with moral and economic problems.

The center was started seven years ago.

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Stanford University students have approved by a 2-1 margin a referendum asking that the university health service be authorized to prescribe contraceptives to any student desiring them.

Dr. Maurice M. Osborne, health service director, said he doubted the referendum Thursday would have much effect.

The referendum was considered advisory only and not binding on the university.

Lakes Are Better

Heavy Rains Have Spoiled Fishing

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Heavy rains have spoiled fishing in most Missouri streams but the lakes are providing some more satisfaction to anglers, the Conservation Commission reported today.

Smaller streams could be in good condition by the weekend. Conditions by region:

Northwest—Streams in poor condition but some success reported on channel catfish.

North central—Streams high and murky; some channels being taken on worms.

Northeast—Streams muddy; best fishing in sougns.

West central—Upper Osage, Sac and south Grand muddy; Pomme de Terre muddy above the lake but will be clear this weekend below the dam unless gates are opened; spoonbill snagging good at Osceola.

Central—Best in the lower Osage where crappie and white bass are hitting well; Gasconade, Niangua and Maries muddy.

East central—Streams in poor condition.

Southwest—James high and muddy but Elk in good condition and goggle-eye are biting well.

Ozark—Streams muddy.

Southeast—Black, St. Francis and Castor muddy but could clear by the weekend in upper reaches.

Lakes:

Bull Shoals—upper portion clear with bass, crappie and bluegill fishing good.

Table Rock—Good; black bass biting deep.

Taneycomo—Good; trout biting well.

Clearwater—High and dingy; white bass the best bet.

Wappapello—High and muddy; channel cat hitting on trotlines.

Norfolk—Rising and muddy; crappie biting well on jigs.

Pomme de Terre—Clear except for headwaters; best catch is bass.

Lake of the Ozarks—Clear except extreme upper portions; black bass hitting deep.

Montrose—Muddy but catfish and bass being taken.

Schell-Osage—Clear with crappie, bass and bluegill good.

Duck Creek—Clear; bluegill biting and crappie taking minnows.

Hunnewell—Clear with bass best.

Little Dixie—Good condition; bass hitting deep running lures.

Trimble—Good; bluegill and crappie taking worms and minnows.

Jacomo—Clear; bass hitting deep and channels taking worms.

Paho—Clear; bass hitting deep, catfish taking worms.

Thousand Hills—Murky; bass hitting deep, crappie taking jigs and minnows.

Class M, S

Schools In

MVC Meet

The annual Missouri Valley College Invitational track meet for high schools will be held April 22-23 on the college's Gregg-Mitchell field.

Class M schools will compete on the 22nd, and Class S on the 23rd.

Entries in the Class M division are: Slater, Sweet Springs, Higginsville, Carrollton, Booneville, Kemper Military Academy of Booneville, Lexington, Richmond, St. Paul's of Concordia, Oak Grove, Odessa, Cameron, Harrisonville, Kearney, Windsor, Smithville and Brookfield.

Mercy High School of Marshall heads the Class S entries.

Others are: Malta Bend, LaSalle of Alma, Santa Fe of Grand Pass, Norborne, Orrick, Sacred Heart of Sedalia, University High of Columbia, Southwest of Ludlow and Chilhowee.

In the Class M, Howard Christian, California, holds the record of 22.9 for the 220-yard dash, set in 1962. In 1959 another Californian, Larry Dunham, established a 20.7 record in the 180-yard hurdles.

Ray Lopez, Knob Noster, broad jumped 21 feet, 10 and five-eighths inches in 1964 to establish a record in that event.

Knob Noster's 1964 mile relay team composed of Tom Anvill, Wilson Kobel, Bill Moore and Ray Lopez clipped off the four laps in 3:36.9 to secure honors for that record.

In Class S, Sedalians claim three records. The old Hubbard High School, now Hubbard annex to Smith-Cotton High, was in Class S in 1962 when the records for the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and 880-yard relay were set.

Glen Whitney sprinted the 100 in 10.3 and the 220 in 23.0 to gain those records for Hubbard. Whitney was also anchor man on the Hubbard 880 relay team also composed of Samuel Webb, Anthony Buckner and Ronald Johnson. The quartet ticked off the half-mile in 1:38.2.

Other area record holders in Class S include Charlie Bock of Alma who, in 1962 ran the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.9. LaSalle's Becker established the 180-yard low hurdle mark in 1965 with a 21.4 clocking.

Two Doubleheaders

On Tap For S-C

The Smith-Cotton Tigers face two doubleheaders this weekend, the first tonight against Mexico at 5 and 7:15 p. m. and the second Saturday against Pem-Broke-Country Day at 1 p. m. Both days of action will be in Sedalia at Liberty Park.

Juan Marichal is ahead of last year's pace. He's already won three games—and one fight.

Marichal, who last season tangled with John Roseboro in one of the most celebrated brawls in baseball history, pitched the San Francisco Giants to their fifth straight victory Thursday by checking the Chicago Cubs 5-2 on six hits.

It was Marichal's third straight complete game victory, and emphasized that he is winning his battle to wipe out any mental scars left by the bat-swinging incident that cost him an eight-day suspension and a $1,750 fine.

But Marichal is just living up to the prediction he made before the season started.

"I'll never forget that day," he admitted. "But I don't think it affected my pitching the rest of last season."

"And it won't bother it this year."

However, there were those, such as Philadelphia Manager Gene Mauch, who wondered, particularly when Marichal won only three games and lost four after sitting out his suspension.

"You see a lot of scars in baseball," Mauch said. "On the face and the chin and the cheeks, and on the legs and arms. We don't know about this scar. This one might be someplace where you can't see it."

Marichal is proving you can't see what doesn't exist and, although he will never forget that day last year, there is little doubt that the only thing he wants people to remember is his pitching.

In the three victories so far this season, the Giants' ace right-hander has allowed only 16 hits, striking out 23 while walking just two, and allowing only two earned runs for a microscopic .067 earned run average.

The loss was the fifth straight for the hapless Cubs, who announced after the game they had traded pitchers Bob Buhl and Larry Jackson to Philadelphia for outfielders John Herrstein and Adolfo Phillips and pitcher Ferguson Jenkins.

The Phillies, who need pitching help, dropped a 5-4 decision to Atlanta for their third straight loss, while Pittsburgh, which doesn't seem to need any help, edged Cincinnati and Milt Pappas 2-1 for its sixth straight victory and eighth in nine games.

In the only other National League game scheduled, St. Louis edged the New York Mets 5-4. Chicago belted California 8-6 in the only American League game scheduled as rookie Tom Agee scored five runs for the White Sox.

Marichal, who struck out 12 Cubs, got more support than he needed as Willie Mays and Jim Hart each smacked two-run homers. It was Mays' fourth homer of the season and No. 509 of his career, leaving him only two short of Mel Ott's National League record.

Eddie Matthews set a major league record by playing in his 2,009th game as a third baseman for the Braves, who rode Chris Short's wildness and Rico Carty's key triple to their victory over the Phillies.

The Phillies built a 4-2 lead but Short walked Lee Thomas with the bases loaded in the sixth inning to force in a run, then got into trouble in the eighth when he walked Joe Torre. Carty followed with a triple, driving in the tying run, then raced home when Short uncorked a wild pitch.

Pappas, acquired from Baltimore in the Frank Robinson trade, made an effective first start in the National League, allowing only five hits and striking out seven in six innings. But Pittsburgh's Bob Veale was a little sharper, allowing only six hits and striking out nine in going the distance.

Pappas was tagged for a solo homer by Jesse Gonder in the third inning, then surrendered the winning run in the sixth on Matty Alou's triple and a successful squeeze bunt by Gene Alley.

Curt Flood collected three hits for the Cardinals, including a two-run homer in the ninth inning that pulled them from behind against the Mets. Bob Gibson pitched a four-hitter for the victory, his 13th against two losses lifetime against New York.

Agee hit his third homer for the White Sox, all against the Angels, and also collected a single and two walks while reaching base a fifth time when he was hit by a pitch. He also stole a base. Pete Ward collected one of Chicago's key hits, a bases-loaded triple in a four-run third inning uprising.

Youth For Age Deal May Spell Pennant

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—In acquiring pitchers Larry Jackson and Bob Buhl for his Philadelphia Phillies, John Quinn acted like a general manager who is thinking pennant.

Quinn dealt youth for age. He reached for the one ingredient most experts said might keep the Phillies from the National League flag—pitching depth.

To get it, he gave up 23-year-old Adolpho Phillips, 22-year-old Ferguson Jenkins and 28-year-old John Herrstein to the Chicago Cubs Thursday.

Quinn, whose reputation as a shrewd trader rapidly is becoming legend, admits he was thinking of today in adding the 34-year-old Jackson and the 37-year-old Buhl to the Phillies' pitching staff.

"We have a solid club," Quinn observed. "But everyone was asking: 'What can we do to improve our pitching; who can we use for a fourth starter?'"

"Well, now we have not only a fourth starter in Jackson, but a fifth in Buhl."

Manager Gene Mauch, of course, wasn't talking about pennants, but he appeared as if he was celebrating Christmas in April. He said:

"These two ideally complement our ball club. If there were any doubts of our pitching depth, Jackson and Buhl rectify that. We'll start Jackson Sunday against Cincinnati, and work Buhl in as a spot starter as soon as we can."

You don't have to be a mental gymnast to grasp the Quinn-Mauch mathematics in the trade. Jackson won 14 games and Buhl 13 last season. If they can repeat or even come close to those figures, the Phillies figure to be rough.

Mauch now has as starting rotation of Jim Bunning, 19-8 in 1965; Chris Short, 18-11; Ray Culp, 14-10; Jackson, 14-21, and Buhl, 13-11. He also has lefty Bo Belinsky and Grant Jackson, a promising young southpaw. In the bullpen there is Gary Wagner, Roger Craig and Steve Ridzik.

The beauty of the deal from the Philadelphia standpoint is that they gave up three players who would see little service for two starting pitchers. Some experts still are trying to figure how Quinn pried loose Bill White and Dick Groat from the St. Louis Cardinals last winter. This latest caper has to revive the thinking that the Phillies general manager carries a gun.

Herrstein, who hit .200 last year, had one hit in 10 at bats so far in 1966, striking out seven times. Phillips was hitless in three at bats and Jenkins had worked 2-13 innings, giving up three hits and two runs. He was 8-6 at Little Rock in 1965 and 2-1 with the Phillies.

211 Teams Take Part In MSHSAA Series

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Air India has completed inspection of the tail assemblies of its fleet of seven Boeing 707s and found no cracks, a company spokesman announced today.

The inspection was made after the Boeing Co. asked airlines to search for hairline cracks in 707 tails, particularly those of older models.

Air India, a government airline, lost one of its 707s in a crash last January on Mont Blanc, in the French Alps, and all 117 persons aboard were killed. The cause of the crash has not been determined.

S-C Track Men Finish 4th In Meet

The Smith-Cotton Tiger track team finished a tight fourth out of five contenders in the Missouri Valley College Invitational track meet for Class L schools, held Thursday afternoon in Marshall. The Tigers finished up with 45½ points, ½ point out of third place and 1½ points out of second.

Belton High of Kansas City took first with 54½ points, Marshall's Owls second with 47 points, Fort Osage third with 46 points, and Lillis High of Kansas City last with 31 points.

Sedalia's Jim Siron and Bob Reese brought home the laurels for the Tigers by capturing three blue ribbons between them. Siron in the mile and Reese in the high jump and pole vault.

Buddy Turner captured second in the high hurdles for S-C while Fred Kelly took a red ribbon in the shot put. Turner had a third place finish to his credit in the broad jump while Lewellen helped the S-C cause with a third in the discus.

Results of the meet:

High hurdles—Bailey, B.; Turner, S-C; Bush, B.; Vaughan, S-C; Cheezman, M., 16.3.

100-yard dash—Absher, M.; McLakes, B.; Morris, L.; McMillan, F.O.; Guthery, M., 10.6.

440-yard dash—Davis, F.O.; DeJanes, F.O.; Shinn, B.; Arnest, S-C; Flores, L., 53.9.

Low hurdles—Dunigan, L.; Gailley, B.; Allen, L.; Ruhl, B.; Wilhite, M., 21.7.

880-yard run—Van Dyke, F.O.; Cheezman, M.; Hagen, S-C; Cates, M.; Powell, B., 2:05.3.

220-yard dash—Malakeo, B.; Absher, M.; Dockery, B.; Morris, L.; Atterbury, L., 23.8.

Mile relay—Fort Osage, Lillis, Belton, Smith-Cotton, Marshall, 3:38.8.

Discus—Poindexter, M.; Grindstaff, B.; Lewellen, S-C; Bigelow, L.; Morgan, M., 129 feet, 6½ inches.

High jump—Reese, S-C; DeJanes, F.O.; Weekley, M.; McDaniel, F.O.; Munson, S-C, and Bush, B., tied 5 feet, 6 inches.

Broad jump—Donigan, L.; Jewell, B.; Turner, S-C; Washington, M.; Bash, B., 19 feet, 3 inches.

Pole vault—Reese, S-C; Clause, M.; Absher, M.; Dyer, F.O.; McDaniel, F.O., 11 feet, 9 inches.

Shot put—Stevenson, B.; Kelley, S-C; Poindexter, M.; Guthery, M.; Lamy, S-C, 50 feet, 10½ inches.

7,500 Patrol Boys Will Watch Senators, Athletics Play May 7

Approximately 7,500 School Safety Patrol members, including a delegation from Sedalia will attend the baseball game between the Kansas City Athletics and the Washington Senators on May 7 at Municipal Stadium.

Arrangements to attend the game were made by the Automobile Club of Missouri through the courtesy of the Athletics. Each year the Athletics treat School Safety Patrol members with a day at the ballpark for their continuing effort in protecting the lives of their classmates.

Stan Keesling, Auto Club Safety Director, said that special pre-game ceremonies have been arranged to honor the more than 25,000 Patrol members on duty in Auto Club territory.

Patrol members in the St. Louis area will be similarly treated to a game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Chicago Cubs on May 25.

Invitations were sent to all schools having School Safety Patrols in the Kansas City area.

In Distance Medley

Freshman Record Is Set In Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—A University of Kansas quartet, anchored by Jim Ryun's 3:59 mile, raced to a freshman intercollegiate record in the distance medley Thursday to kick off the 41st Kansas Relays.

Ryun thrilled the small crowd as he finished his four-lap leg with a torrid 53.6 quarter, giving Kansas a 9:50.4, and breaking the old record of 9:55, set by Loyola of Chicago last year.

New meet records are likely with Texas vs. Oklahoma State in the university sprint medley and Kansas vs. Kansas State in the four-mile relay today.

A third meet mark should come in the 5,000 meters, where Olympian Oscar Moore of Southern Illinois, the tireless 28-year-old from White Plains, N.Y., has a career best of 13:58.8. The meet mark is 14:36.

Finals will also be held today in the college sprint medley, open 400 meter hurdles, broad jump and discus.

Preliminaries also will be held in the university and college 120-yard high hurdles, 100-yard dash, and the 440, 880 and mile relays.

In addition the first five events of the grueling 10-event decathlon will be held.

Texas has a season best of 3:19.5 in the sprint medley at the West Texas Relays, equalling the Ku Relays record, and the Longhorns won at the Texas Games by almost three seconds in 3:20.7.

This time, however, Texas must contend with Oklahoma State, with its talented 1:48.5 man, John Perry, in the anchor half mile. Texas will have Preston Davis, voted most outstanding athlete at the Texas Relays, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma also are strong.

In the four-mile, Kansas set an all-time Big Eight best and a Texas Relays mark of 16:40.2. This compares with the Ku Relays mark of 16:41.6 by Missouri with Robin Lingle in 1964.

The duel of mile anchormen will match NCAA indoor champion Conrad Nightingale of Kansas State, with a best of 4:02.8, against John Lawson of Kansas, with a best of 4:03.

In the college sprint medley today, Grambling, La., with Olympic sprinter Richard Stebbins, has a season best of 3:20.1 and might nudge the meet mark of 3:19.8 if pushed.

Dennis Tague of Pittsburg, Kan., State is probably the top man in the open 400 meter hurdles. In the discus, Gary Schwartz has a career best, set this season, of 178-9½ compared to the nine-year-old meet mark of 178-1 by Kansas' Al Oerter, a three-time Olympic champ.

The broad jump mark of 26-2½ by New Mexico's Clarence Robinson last year seems safe although it's a good field.

The final final event held Thursday in the college-university-open divisions was the 10,000 meters, won by Pat McMahon of Oklahoma Baptist in 30:19.3.

Kansas and Oklahoma served notice on the Big Eight Conference Thursday that they'll be hard to beat in track for the next three years.

The two schools captured every freshman-junior college event on Thursday's opening program.

Oklahoma's foursome of Rip Winkle, Mike Gregory, Wayne Long and Glenn Long took the 440-yard relay and 880.

Kansas swept the field events, Gary Tucker winning the shotput, Ron Shelley the javelin and Ken Gaines the broad jump.

State Fishing Meet Set To Open Today

BRANSON, Mo. (AP)—The fifth annual Missouri State Fishing Tournament opens today on Lake Bull Shoals with 20 contestants entered from Missouri, Kansas and Ohio.

Saturday's fishing will be on Lake Table Rock and the final day of fishing Sunday will be on Lake Taneycomo.

Glen Andrews, now from Rogers, Ark., won the title last year but is not eligible this year because of a new rule barring any person who holds a guide's license.

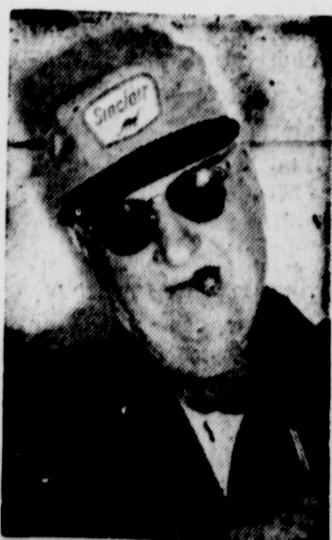

The championship is determined on points given for size of eligible fish brought in at the end of each 12-hour day, starting at 5 a.m. Eligible fish include black bass, trout, Kokanee salmon, channel cat, crappie and walleye.

Rides Four Winners

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP)—Jockey Jorge Velasquez rode four winners at Garden State Park Thursday.

High Rapid Rise Of Cost Of Living Is Latest News

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — That the cost of living is rising isn't news. But how much it is rising and how fast is news.

New Trend Aimed At Drinkers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Each year the bottle is taken away from hundreds of thousands of Americans long enough for them to be arrested and tried on drunk charges.

For most, it's a numb shuffle that ends where it began—on the streets or in the gutter. But now, a quiet revolution in the law may be pointing the way toward hope.

Two federal circuit court decisions are giving the revolution steam and direction. And last week, an Oakland janitor named Thomas F. Budd asked the Supreme Court to rule as the two circuit courts have: that a chronic alcoholic is a sick person who cannot be treated by the law as a criminal for drunkenness alone.

Budd has been arrested 34 times on drunkenness charges and has been described in medical testimony as a chronic alcoholic.

If the Supreme Court takes Budd's case and so rules, its decision will be binding on all the courts.

The two federal courts, the 4th Circuit in Richmond, Va., and the Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, partly pegged their rulings to a 1962 Supreme Court decision that threw out a California law that made narcotics addiction a crime.

The Circuit Court rulings, Jan. 22 and March 31, cited the 8th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, which forbids "cruel and unusual punishments." Budd, in challenging a California public drunkenness law, based his appeal mostly on that prohibition.

The 4th Circuit Court ruling is binding on courts in Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. The Circuit Court ruling here is law for Washington courts.

And yet, at the local drunk court level, the bottom rung in the judicial ladder, the revolution is barely above the starting stage across the land.

Beset by a lack of facilities, law enforcement authorities are hard-pressed to find other means of handling the alcoholics who crowd the skid rows in big cities and the local drunks who reel about many small towns.

Washington is a prime example of the problem.

There have been 22,000 drunk cases in court yearly, only 40 beds are available to accommodate alcoholic patients at D.C. General Hospital.

Government sources say they need time to provide facilities other than jail for chronic alcoholics. One judge, who asked that his name not be used, said: "We are still sentencing defendants to jail on drunkenness convictions because we have no place else to send them."

Irritating Noise Concert Is Promised

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A 2½-minute concert of "one irritating noise after another" was promised members of the south central chapter of the American Musiological Society today.

Dr. Robert McMahan, 28, an assistant professor of music history at the University of Louisville, said Thursday he would deliver a concert with an electric "music-maker" he calls "Alfred."

McMahan, a passionate partisan of electronic noises he usually terms music, said the sounds in his composition have been developed by 11 electronic devices with which Alfred is equipped.

the government statistician may have different ideas.

The shopper knows that prices of many things are higher than a year ago and that on some items they seem to go up with each visit to the store.

The statistician says that the rise in the cost of living in recent weeks wasn't as bad as it was in February. Then it made a one-month jump of one-half of one per cent. And it climbed to 2.5 per cent above a year ago.

The government hails the slowdown since then as diminishing the threat of runaway inflation.

The shopper is more likely to say that prices still are a lot higher than a year ago and if the rise isn't as bad as a few weeks back, it's still bad. And then will come the question: When is the rise going to stop?

For food prices the answer may be: pretty soon now for many items, and in a few cases prices already have stopped climbed. The growing season will help as it moves slowly north. And increased production of meat animals will ease market shortages later this year and should bring relief to many a family budget.

The squeeze on the family budget today may be more obvious to the shopper than to the statistician.

That is because the Bureau of Labor Statistics' consumer price index lists all the items that an average urban family is supposed to buy to maintain a median standard of living. But many families only now and then buy some of the items listed.

Thus, should the prices of new cars or second-hand ones go down, the index would be affected. But few families buy either a new one or a used one each year. And their total living costs may be going up instead of down.

But government statisticians have been more worried, perhaps, by the increased costs of materials and services in industrial production. Slow but steady price rises have been registered by metals and metal products, some chemicals and other raw materials. Other production costs have been going up, too, in many industries. This brings pressure for higher prices on the output of factories. And in time this can widen out—with a little added at each step—to affect the prices of finished goods for the ultimate consumer.

Oscar Goes Behind Iron 'Curtain'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The first Oscar to go behind the Iron Curtain will be carried there by a couple of Czech film makers who represent the "new wave" of that small country.

Followers of film festivals have remarked on the high quality of Czech films during the past two years. Last Monday night, the Motion Picture Academy took cognizance of this trend and chose Czech-made "The Shop on Main Street" as best foreign language film of the year over movies from Italy, Greece, Sweden and Japan.

The Oscar was claimed by Jan Kadar and Elmar Klos, two film veterans who codirected the movie. It was their eighth such collaboration.

Codirection is virtually unknown in American films. That isn't the only element in the Czech film industry that is dissimilar.

"We have no star system," explained Klos, 55 and a Czech. "Our most important actors might do supporting roles in films."

"Directors earn more than actors," Kadar, 46 and a Slovak, added with a degree of pleasure. "The actors are paid according to what category they are; the quality of their work determines their category."

The film industry is completely nationalized in Communist Czechoslovakia, of course. There are three studios in the country producing 36 features a year, plus numerous shorts, cartoons and TV subjects.

In the last few years the Czech movie goers have had much to shout about. I asked the Klos-Kadar combination why their industry has flourished.

"It is because of a new cultural atmosphere that began about four years ago," explained Klos. "Since that time 20 new, talented directors have graduated from the academy and they are doing exciting things."

"The Shop on Main Street" is now a hit on the art-house circuit in this country and may achieve general release on the strength of its Academy Award.

With Grass Problems, You Need
Trouble-free with a capital "T"!

STANDARD CLIPPINGS BAG. TORO pioneered grass and leaf bagging attachments for rotary mowers in the first place, and this year they're even better. This standard equipment bag clamps on with one hand, and it has a heavy-duty bottom. No zippers to clog, either.

SAFETY SPIN START. You wind up the "impulse" starter, step behind the mower handle, for safety, and push the lever to "start" position. Chokes automatically.

THREE OR 3½ HP. FOUR-CYCLE ENGINE. Starts easily, runs smoother than cheap 2-cycle engines. No mixing of gas and oil.

MAGNESIUM HOUSING. The lighter-than-aluminum stuff they use in airplanes.

AUTO-OILER. A visual oil filler. Push the button and you're sure the crankcase is full. No plug, no funnels, no oily fingers.

CLEAN-OUT PORT. When you're through mowing, let the engine idle and run a little water into the clean-out port. The blade splashes it all around under the housing and washes it out like new.

TRIMMIT. You know that grass along the sidewalk that won't stand up? This little device props it up so the blade can clip it off crisply.

WIND-TUNNEL HOUSING. TORO'S "S" shaped cutting blade actually creates a powerful suction under the housing. It pulls grass up for a more even cut. "vacuums" leaves, too.

FESTIVE FINERY — It's a far cry from the fashions of her native Copenhagen for Queen Anne Marie of Greece, who donned the local finery while in the Greek province of Epirus for a state ceremony. The Danish-born queen attended religious services celebrating the anniversary of the city of Ionnina's liberation from Turkish rule.

The European corn borer is one of the most devastating insect pests of American agriculture on record. It first started damaging corn in New England, in 1916-17, where the manufacture of brooms from broomcorn imported from Europe was a principal industry. The corn borer next spread to the Midwest, America's "corn belt." In 1949 alone this pest caused the loss of 315 million bushels of corn.

The polar bear doesn't kick with his hind legs while swimming as most other animals do, Pennsylvania State University animal behaviorists have found. They think it may be evolving into a sea mammal like the whale.

STOMACH TROUBLE CAN BE CAUSED BY NERVE IRRITATIONS

The stomach is a strong muscular organ very richly supplied with blood vessels and nerves. In its lining are embedded glands which secrete digestive fluids and hydrochloric acid. The function of the stomach is to aid in the digestion of fats and proteins. No starch digestion takes place here. It also breaks down food particles into a fluid mass. That is why it is advisable to chew your food well so that your stomach does not have to do the work of your teeth.

The stomach is completely surrounded by a layer of nerves which control its movements and secretions. You have all noted this reflex action when at the sight or smell of food your mouth waters or your stomach rumbles.

In view of the foregoing facts it is easy to understand why any nerve irritation can cause stomach trouble whether it be from a state of mind or mechanical pressure from a vertebra out of place in the spine. The chiropractor is especially trained to locate and remove these nerve irritations.

COPTER CARRIES COPTER—Helicopter uses and capabilities have expanded greatly under impact of the Vietnamese war. Here, a turbine-powered Sikorsky Skycrane retrieves another of the breed, a damaged Chinook. The damaged copter is lifted on a nylon sling with a drag chute to stabilize the seven-ton load.

Tax Increase Is Seen

Senate Version Of Budget To Floor Of Upper House

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Senate's version of the billion dollar budget for Missouri reached the floor of the upper house Thursday, and one senator warned the state is heading for a tax increase.

Sen. A. Clifford Jones, R-Ladue, a member of the Senate Appropriations committee, said Missouri is on a crash course toward a tax increase if present levels of government spending are maintained.

Even with another hold-the-line budget next year, Jones said, more revenue will be needed.

He said the state has been operating on a deficit basis for the past three legislative sessions, depending upon reserve funds to balance the budget.

The Senate committee's spending plan calls for $1.1 billion—about $3.4 million over the budget recommended originally by Gov. Warren E. Hearnes.

Sen. J. F. Patterson, D-Caruthersville, committee chairman said the state would have a $20 million cushion by July 1, 1967, and perhaps another $5.3 million if income meets expectations. That's based on a anticipated economic growth of 3½ per cent.

This didn't prevent Sen. John W. Joynt, D-St. Louis, from securing enough votes to boost the committee's recommendation by $33,525 for the State Commerce and Industrial Development Commission.

Joynt had asked for a $160,000 increase but was turned down.

Most of the Senate's morning session was spent in debate over

Work Over State Road Beauty Bill

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The House Roads and Highways Committee Wednesday night worked over and approved three highway beautification bills sure to create more argument either on the House floor or in conference committee.

One amendment to the bill-board regulation bill reduced the measure, its Senate sponsor said, "to a piece of garbage."

Sen. Robert A. Young, D-St. Ann, objected to a change in zoning provisions in rural areas. "Well," he said, "that kills it."

Young said Rep. Patrick J. Hickey, D-St. Louis County, would not handle the bill on the House floor, as planned, with amendment. He asked committee chairman, I. V. Henson, D-Wayne County, who was going to handle the bill.

"I have no idea," Henson said. "And I don't care."

All three highway beautification bills were deferred until a night session. (Please turn to Page 6 Col. 3)

UCW Elects New Officers At Meet

Mrs. E. B. Brown, Prairie Village, Kan., was elected president of the United Church Women of Missouri at the 23rd annual assembly held in Sedalia April 20-22.

Other officers elected to serve the three year term with Mrs. Brown are: Mrs. Hubert E. Pearce, Cameron, vice-president; Mrs. Forrest Moore, Springfield, vice-president; Mrs. Allen O. Miller, Webster Groves, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Price, Jefferson City, recording secretary; Mrs. Howard Gross, Kirksville; corresponding secretary; Mrs. Linwood Alvis, St. Louis, treasurer; Mrs. R. W. Fitzgerald, Springfield, historian.

Department chairmen elected were: Mrs. G. H. Abbott, Cape Girardeau, Christian World Mission; Mrs. Charles Duxbury, Kansas City, World Day of Prayer; Mrs. Forrest Moore, Springfield, May Day Fellowship; Mrs. Robert Karsch, Columbia, Christian World Relations; Mrs. Allen Miller, Webster Groves, World Community Day; Mrs. Walter Niles, Lee's Summit, leadership education; Mrs. Alton Brown, St. Joseph, public relations; Mrs. Alfred a proposal by Sen. Robert A. Young, D-St. Ann, to restore $215,000 to the Office of Urban Affairs so Missouri could participate in federal programs, including the war on poverty.

The Senate committee extracted this item from the House-approved budget.

Several senators said Missouri's participation in economic opportunity programs would not be hampered if the money was not granted. The state still would receive credit for service in kind, they said.

Sen. John E. Downs, D-St. Joseph, said the opponents to federal control were taking the wrong tack. He said the appropriation would give the state some authority in poverty programs.

"We will be remiss," he said, "if we don't take this opportunity to direct this program."

Sen. Patterson defended the cut. "I'm tired," he said, "of going home on weekends and having my constituents laugh in my face at some of the programs we subscribe to up here."

Sen. Richard M. Webster, R-Carhage, replied. "Well, senator, I'm in a little better position. When I go home, I can laugh with my constituents."

Young finally withdrew his amendment, throwing the controversy into a house-senate conference committee.

Further work on the budget bills was deferred until a night session.

Marines, Vietnamese Land Atop Enemy Troops In Heavy Fighting

Outbreak Ends Lull In The Ground War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops battled a mixed Viet Cong-North Vietnamese heavy weapons battalion Thursday, killing at least 173 Communists in stiff fighting that broke a days-long lull in the ground war, U.S. spokesmen reported.

Marine helicopters landed the allied troops virtually on top of the enemy positions 10 miles west of Quang Ngai, on the northern coast, after they were pinpointed by a Viet Cong defector, officers reported. Heavy fighting broke out immediately.

In the air war against North Viet Nam, U.S. Air Force jets renewed assaults on approaches to the strategic Mu Gia Pass after thousands of laborers toiled day and night to reopen the landslide-clogged funnel to the Ho Chi Minh Trail, a U.S. spokesman said.

Only eight days ago U.S. B52s dumped 700 tons of bombs on the winding mountain route on the Laotian frontier 230 miles south of Hanoi in the Strategic Air Command's first strike against the Communist North.

Maj. Gen. Lewis J. Fields of Salisbury, Md., commander of the U.S. 1st Marine Division, said the enemy dead in the battle near Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon, may exceed 300. The combined allied force also was reported to have seized a large store of Communist weapons.

Late in the day more Marines were thrown into the action, and Fields said he thought the enemy was trapped.

Several battalions of U.S. and Vietnamese marines and airborne troops launched Operation Hot Springs after a Viet Cong, Nguyen Dinh Ky, 20, surrendered and pinpointed his unit's positions on a map during a helicopter tour with allied officers. He said he defected because of low pay, low morale and constant pounding by allied air power and artillery.

U.S. officers told Associated Press correspondent George Esper at Quang Ngai the Communists appeared confused by the sudden allied attack and in some instances were running back and forth between U.S. and South Vietnamese units who apparently caught them in a squeeze.

Bids On Third Phase Of State Fair Sewer Project Are Rejected

Bids on the third phase of the State Fair sewer which were opened last Monday at the City Council meeting have been recommended by Burns and McDonnell Engineering Co. to be rejected. There were two bids opened, one for $124,641 and the other for $88,000, both well over the engineer's estimate.

The estimate of Burns and McDonnell was $68,700.

Following the opening, the bids were referred to the Citizens Sewer Bond Advisory Committee and resident engineer R. W. Cunningham and Burns and McDonnell. At that time the City Council was informed by J. W. Meals, representing Burns and McDonnell, they would like to check the figures again.

Thursday Mayor Ralph H. Walker, was informed by Burns and McDonnell they recommended rejecting the bids and to have the project readvertised.

The Council will have to officially act on the recommendation and pass a resolution to re-advertise the bids.

Suspected Mastermind Is Seized

Questioned About Train Robbery In Britain In 1963

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard detectives swooped on a remote seaside resort 70 miles from London Thursday and seized James Edward White, suspected mastermind of the great train robbery. He had led them a merry chase since the robbery in 1963.

Following a tip, plainclothesmen of the Yard's flying squad dashed by car to an apartment house overlooking a beach at Littlestone on Sea.

With local Kent County police officers, they surrounded the building. Then two detectives went to an apartment and arrested White.

He was questioned at Scotland Yard headquarters in connection with the $7.2-million train robbery Aug. 8, 1963. Only $758,000 of the loot has been found.

A former paratrooper in the British army, he is expected to appear in the local magistrate's court at Linslade, near the lonely spot where the robbers with military precision robbed the train.

Police still seek two other men for questioning. They are Bruce Reynolds, 33, and Ronald Edwards, 34.

In addition, police are hunting for Charles Wilson and Ronald Biggs, who escaped from prison in daring, well-organized breaks while serving 30-year sentences for their part in the robbery. Wilson escaped from a prison near Birmingham in August 1964. Biggs was sprung from London's Wandsworth Prison last July.

Ten of the train robbery gang are serving sentences ranging up to 30 years—three in a special new maximum security wing at Parkhurst Jail on the Isle of Wight off England's south coast.

White, 46, came out of hiding last weekend. Apparently broke, he tried to sell his story to two journalists. He said he had been with being on the run. He even supplied the journalists fingerprints to enable them to establish his identity. But then he disappeared into a crowded subway station and wasn't seen again.

Police said they had learned that up to the end of last summer, White worked as an auto mechanic in Nice, France, and in County Cork, Ireland. They said it was almost certainly lack of money that had brought him back to England.

Should Not Change Bosses

Mismanagement Charge Pressed By House Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford pressed his Viet Nam mismanagement charge against Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara but said Thursday the Pentagon should not change bosses in the middle of a war.

"I think it would be unfortunate at this time to make a shift and bring in a new man," said the Michigan congressman.

In the Senate, a Democratic member of the Foreign Relations Committee urged that the United States seek a two-week, election cease-fire in South Viet Nam.

Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee told the Senate a cease-fire would remove a hindrance to broad participation and result in a more meaningful election next August.

Ford and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois talked about war supplies and management at a joint news conference.

Dirksen stopped short of the mismanagement accusation Ford has made repeatedly. Both men rejected any idea that McNamara resign.

Nevertheless, Ford said he stands "without any hesitation or equivocation" by his assertion that the U.S. effort is being shockingly mismanaged by civilians in the Pentagon. "We can help them correct their mistakes," Ford added.

McNamara, before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Wednesday, described as "baloney" charges that there is a bomb shortage in South Viet Nam, and as absurd the complaints of shipping problems.

"I don't believe that Secretary McNamara was right when he called these charges baloney," said Ford.

Knights of Columbus Plan Convention Here

Missouri State Council, Knights of Columbus, will open its three day 65th annual state convention in Sedalia Friday.

The convention will continue Saturday with a banquet Saturday night and Sunday morning ending at noon Sunday.

ney," said Ford. He said the Pentagon chief answered the supply complaints with a mass of "irrelevant statistics."

Gore said the elections could move the war away from escalation and point toward stability in South Viet Nam.

"We should help create the best possible conditions" for elections, he said. And he said the first step should be to assume the initiative in seeking a cease-fire for a campaign and the voting. He suggested two weeks.

Gore said that would show

Petitions For Daylight Time Signed

Petitions are being circulated throughout the city, aimed at obtaining enough signatures to convince the Sedalia City Council to make a time change to daylight savings time, Gordon Wolf, one of the originators of the project, said Thursday. Thus far, contacts have resulted in about 75 percent favorable response.

Several communities in Missouri, such as Moberly and Mexico, have already approved the move. General agreement determined the switch would become effective this Sunday in areas where the measure was approved.

Television stations in Columbia and Jefferson City have rescheduled their broadcasts to coincide with the change in time, with the result that many shows beamed into the Sedalia area will come on an hour ahead of their usual times.

For some Sedalians, the television changes will be problem enough. Those who travel, however, may have their entire work-day schedules thrown off balance.

Wolf, Dr. Russell Drenon, Bernard Stanfield, Phil Lonien, Benny Pummill, Don Weller and Richard Parkhurst are among those Sedalians active in circulating the petitions.

They seek signatures and request the city council to approve the change to daylight savings (Please Turn to Page 6 Col. 1)

Number Of US Deaths Over 3,000

Could Reach 6,000 By Year's End If Rate Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in combat in the Viet Nam war now is over 3,000. It could reach 6,000 or more by the end of the year if the recent rate of battle losses is maintained.

The latest summary of U.S. casualties, released Thursday, listed 3,047 servicemen as dead from hostile action since Jan. 1, 1961, the date from which this country counts the human cost of its involvement in Viet Nam.

The battle death roster lengthened by 89 names in the week ended last Saturday. The weekly toll has been running at around 100. If that rate should be sustained for the rest of this year, the present combat fatality list would be twice as long by Christmas.

The new report showed that more men died in the first 3½ months of 1966 than in all of last year. The 1966 total reached 1,427 through April 16. Combat deaths for all of 1965 stood at 1,365 men.

Meanwhile, the Communist enemy is suffering much heavier battle deaths, according to official U.S. figures. Many of these are being inflicted by South Vietnamese forces.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, said in a speech prepared for an Ohio State University audience Thursday night that more than 13,000 Communist troops have been slain so far in 1966. This is ahead of last year's rate. In 1965, Wheeler said, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese lost 35,000 men in action in the South.

American fighting men wounded in action reached a

Form-Filling for Medicare

Whether or not you are an exponent of Medicare you can't afford to decline the obvious benefits now that the law is on the books.

If a person is approaching or has reached the age of 65 he had better stop procrastinating about signing up for hospital and medical insurance at the Social Security office. Delay may result in a two-year waiting period.

Those who have never had a social security number or a birth certificate may feel they have undergone a little shell-shock from the paper work, form filling-out and signatures required to become officially enlisted in the Medicare program.

This was especially true for those who at the same time were involved in a bout with old Form 1040. Now that the latter is out of the way those who have not undertaken a tussle with Medicare enrollment may look forward to it with expectancy.

The most expedient approach to the problem is a visit to Social Security headquarters where staff members have all the answers.

One does not need to get panicky about the frightening fact that it is taking more and more red tape to wind up the mainspring of the Great Society. But about signing up for Medicare, the only inconvenience is to get caught as a tail-ender in the waiting room.

The Sedalia office of Social Security performs paper work and form-filling-out details courteously and with supervision in the most meticulous manner. About all an applicant has to do is answer questions and sign the forms—about six of them. Some of the questions are a bit droll like the one put to an 88-year-old woman asking whether she had had military service. If any, that would have been Spanish-American war service.

Enrollment in Medicare is nothing like the ordeal anticipated although it does take about 45 minutes to process some cases. Thereafter the Social Security administrators take up the task of inquiry by correspondence with numerous individuals to substantiate birth records, etc.

This is just one instance in the massive paperwork the cost of which to the U.S. economy is estimated at $100 billion a year—one seventh of the nation's annual output of goods and services.

Perhaps enrollment in Medicare could be done effectively by those new-fangled computers. But no computer will ever take the place of the cheerful, courteous person across the desk giving such desirable assistance to those who find need for it at the Social Security office.

Kintner Is a Headache To Networks

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Eyebrows were raised in broadcasting circles and among GOP critics when LBJ hired Robert E. Kintner, former head of NBC, as Secretary of the Cabinet. If there is one place where Lyndon is vulnerable, it is in his relations with the Federal Communications Commission and his wife's long TV-radio monopoly in Austin, Texas. So with Kintner's appointment to the White House, critics have been eager to pump up the Austin-to-FCC axis.

Inside fact, however, is that Kintner has no love for all that is happening in the broadcasting industry. Some of its executives, especially the Sarnoff family of RCA-NBC, have been ruthless with him, firing him at the height of his career.

Kintner knows more about the radio-TV industry than the Sarnoffs, both father and son combined, ever thought of knowing.

He also knows where all the bodies are buried inside ABC where he was kicked out as president just as he was pulling that third network up by its bootstraps.

Kintner is brilliant, tough and courageous. Watch for the sparks to fly in the machinery by which the three big networks have kept a throttlehold over what the American public sees and hears.

$100 Per Life

Most accidents on the highway are caused by jackknifing, says Jimmy Hoffa, head of the Teamsters Union and the most famous truck driver in the nation. Testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee, Hoffa said that jackknifing could be corrected by the use of a fifth wheel, which would cost about $100 per truck.

Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., asked Hoffa how the fifth wheel would affect the performance of the truck.

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The Travelers Protective Association, Post F, at a meeting in Bothwell Hotel elected the following officers: President, Leo E. Eickhoff; First Vice-President, Herbert Seifert; Second Vice-President, Nolan Bricken; Secretary-Treasurer, Louis Bahrenburg; Directors, C. I. Taylor, F. A. Boyesen, J. Ross Kindred; Leon Archias, Jr., and Linden L. Jones.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The board of directors of the Sedalia Country Club met in the offices of the Missouri Bankers' Association and elected the following officers: President, Dr. J. E. Cannaday; Vice-President, W. H. Cloney; Secretary, Emil Neef; Treasurer, Jack Crawford. Lee Montgomery was elected a member of the board to succeed T. A. Hickerson who has moved to Kansas City. The board went on record in favor of permitting the state to have the right-of-way for the proposed highway which will pass by the Country club.

12-Year-Olds Use 'Phone To Talk About Each Other

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"Him? I didn't think you even knew he existed, Ellen."

"Really, Jason, I don't think you even know what love means."

These are a couple of remarks I heard my daughter, Tracy Ann, make recently over the telephone, an instrument which has become so firmly attached to her ear that I am thinking of having it removed by surgical means.

I am not a parent who believes in eavesdropping but kids today bellow their secrets into a phone so loud you can hear them all over the house.

What do 12-year-old kids talk about? Well, believe it or not, they talk about each other.

Does Judy like Rodger? What does Susie see in Spencer? And how about Dick and Christine?

The other night, with both a radio and television set turned on, my daughter sat and talked over the phone with a chum about the antics of a seventh-grade Romeo for exactly an hour and 15 minutes. Finally, I went into her room and broke up the conversation.

"What on earth are you doing?" I demanded.

Tracy Ann pointed at an American history book open on her lap.

"Studying the Monroe Doctrine," she replied.

"While listening to the radio, watching television, and talking on the phone?"

"Yup."

I noticed six boys' names written on her small blackboard, and asked who they were.

"My boy friends."

"Only six?" I inquired with heavy sarcasm.

"Oh, I've got lots more," she said airily. "But those are the ones I like best—now."

I went out and grumbled to my wife.

"Oh, dry up, Rover," said Frances. "Let her alone. She's still in the puppy love stage."

Puppy love? Oh, no. No, indeed. Whatever this jabberwocky over the telephone between small fry amounts to, it isn't puppy love.

Not real puppy love, anyway. Real puppy love isn't noisy and carefree and gossipy. Real puppy love is solitary, silent, soulful suffering—the spirit laid bare and shuddering and helpless to cure its own agony.

I remembered then my own case of puppy love in the seventh grade. I wrote not six names on a blackboard, but one in my heart.

She was a girl half a head taller than I, and I sold newspapers on the streets for days to save up enough to buy her a box of Valentine candy, and she promptly gave a piece to the tallest boy in the class.

This boy was my best friend and I sat in the row between him and her, and I had to pass back and forth the notes they wrote each other and I never read a line. I have had to do some bitter chores in my life since then, but none that ever degraded me more or left me more forlorn.

Well, he grew up and died, and she grew up and married, and I grew up and moved away. And I never really told her that I loved her, and I never will.

All this happened back in 1918, and so far as I know puppy love has been going downhill ever since. They don't have men in the seventh grade anymore who can stand up to its torture.

Six names on a blackboard—Ha! Child's play. But I guess it's better that way.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Sunday, April 17, the 107th day of 1966. There are 258 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: In 1941, the army of Yugoslavia surrendered to the Nazis. In 1943, U.S. bombers attacked Palermo, Sicily.

In 1945, the United States announced that the Japanese had lost more than 200 planes in a single day of suicide attacks on Okinawa.

Ten years ago—The dissolution of the Cominform, the Soviet-led coalition of Communist parties, was announced in Moscow and it was seen as a victory for Yugoslavia, which had broken away from Kremlin domination.

Five years ago—Cuba was invaded by an anti-Castro force of exiles at the Bay of Pigs.

One year ago — President Johnson said the United States was willing to begin "unconditional discussions" for a peace settlement in Viet Nam.

Appearance Can Also Be Deceiving In Marriage

By Ruth Millett
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The other day I came across an article telling husbands and wives "how to appear to be happily married." Can it be that the importance of creating an impressive public image — thought to be so important by nations, movie stars and politicians — is sifting down to just plain married folks?

If so, it's pretty silly. To be happily married is terribly important. But to APPEAR to be isn't important at all.

As a matter of fact, it wouldn't be worth the bother. For couples who appear to be happily married often aren't — while those whose public treatment of each other has their friends wondering about their marriage often stick together for a lifetime.

Outsiders just can't tell anything about a marriage. A couple who seem mismatched often aren't. A couple who make cracks at each other may enjoy keeping up a running verbal battle. A couple who seem indifferent to each other may just be sure of each other's affection.

In contrast there are the couples who seem to be perfectly happy together and to have everything any couple could want with never a hint of trouble or unhappiness — until the marriage is suddenly over for no apparent reason.

So if you really wanted to appear to be happily married, just how would you go about it since the happily married behave toward each other in many different ways?

They may be unfailingly polite and considerate of each other in public — or they may not. They may build each other up — or cut each other down to size. They may brag on each other — or complain about each other.

So the only sure way of appearing to be happily married is simply to STAY married.

Letter To The Editor

CATHERINE HUDSON (1300 South Ohio) — An historical article dealing with the demolition of Nelson's Monument in Dublin, Ireland, recently published in the Sedalia Democrat interested me so much, I feel I would like to make a few comments. This incident, appearing in a daily newspaper is historical of course, because it happened at least five weeks ago. (May we hope to read something about the 50th Anniversary celebrations commemorating the Easter Rebellion of 1916 to which reference is also made, within the next six months?)

From your article I quote, "The Irish patriots who blew up Admiral Nelson's statue in Dublin displayed about as much sense as those nuts who planned to dynamite the Statue of Liberty a while back."

This statement is both insulting and untrue. The Statue of Liberty was erected to indicate freedom and liberty for all entering this great country. Any persons who, while living here and enjoying these benefits would blow up, or even threaten to destroy this symbol, are criminals.

In contrast, the statue of Nelson was erected in Ireland by the English, during their unbecome and enforced occupation of that country. It was built to commemorate the victory of an English Admiral of the French navy, — so where does Ireland come in? The only possible connection was that during much of Ireland's struggle for freedom, France was her closest ally and a refuge for Irish patriots with a price on their head.

I do not advocate blowing up statues, or anything else for that matter, but circumstances alter cases. It did not please everyone to have Horatio blown from his pedestal, but doubtless there were some who were not pleased at sea being dumped in Boston Harbour.

From your Editorial once more I quote, "The cruel and tragic story of Ireland's struggle with England is not as well-known as it should be to people who are not of Irish descent."

People in glasshouses shouldn't throw stones.

There is a lot of reason for this bid. If North has the right cards there will be a slam and a four-heart opening will toss that slam out the window.

On the other hand, South has no defense against spades. This time if he opens with one heart West will double for takeout and East will go to four spades if he has to. Furthermore, he will have no trouble making that contract. All he has to do is to draw trumps and take the diamond finesse.

The four opening effectively shuts East and West out of the bidding. In addition it will produce a really big swing for North and South unless East and West know how to get full value out of their trick-taking cards.

If West takes his ace and king of spades he will have no way to get more than one diamond trick and not only will South have taken away the East-West spade game but he will have made a game of his own.

Proper use of signals will allow East and West to save something from the wreck and pick up 50 points for a one-trick set. East must drop his queen of spades under his partner's king.

This play cannot be read as a suit preference call for a diamond shift because if East wants a diamond shift he can get it by just playing a low spade. West is not going to shift to a club in any event.

Actually, the queen of spades play is a specific strength signal and tells West that East is sitting with the jack of spades in back of that queen. West leads the six of spades. East gains the lead and plays a diamond through South's king.

US Fliers Smash Red Targets In Both Areas

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. Marines and paratroopers killed 16 Viet Cong in two coastal clashes Saturday and American fliers slashed at Communist targets both north and south of the border.

A lull evidently persisted in field operations of South Viet Nam's politically bemused armed forces.

New Chicken Curtain Is Now Set Up

Barrier Against Importation Of Poultry From US

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—First there was the Iron Curtain, then the Bamboo Curtain, but, not so well known, is the Chicken Curtain.

A Chicago scientist Saturday deplored the "chicken barrier" set up by certain European and other countries against the importation of poultry from countries where use of certain arsenic-containing chemicals is permitted in poultry feed to "improve the growth and well-being" of the birds.

The United States is one of those countries.

Dr. Douglas V. Frost of Abbott Laboratories said that while the element arsenic is indeed a Jekyll-and-Hyde substance—depending upon how, and in what quantities and configurations, it is used—"science should begin to look more to the good face of the element, less to its dark side."

Indeed, he said, while arsenicals have been under suspicion for more than a century by various scientists as an alleged cause of cancer, all attempts to prove this in the laboratory have so far failed.

Moreover, he added, there's even suggestive evidence to indicate that "research to determine the value of arsenicals to prevent or delay cancer may now be in order."

He made the statements in a report submitted at the close of the convention of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Declaring arsenic is ubiquitous in nature—with trace amounts found in soil, air, water, plants, and animals—Frost said use of arsenicals by man has ranged from the pioneering pesticides—Paris green—to certain uses in medicine, including the "magic bullets" of arsenamine which provided the world with its first drug treatment for syphilis.

"The beneficial response to arsenicals depends, just as does the toxicity, upon the particular arsenical in question," he said.

Asserting that certain organic arsenicals improve the growth and well-being of poultry and swine at levels up to 100 parts per million or more of arsenic in the diet, the researcher said: "Some European countries disbar the safe uses of arsenic acids in poultry feeds."

"They also disbar importation of poultry from countries where these uses are permitted. Such regulations now exist in 18 countries of Europe and North Africa, also in Viet Nam and Red China.

Should Reject Money

BOMBAY, India (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon, the acid-tongued ex-defense minister, says India should reject the $300-million Indian-American Foundation for Education, Scientific and Academic Development as proposed by President Johnson. During Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's recent visit to Washington, Johnson suggested the foundation could be started with U.S.-owned rupees. Menon said in a speech the President should have given the money outright and that India should not permit foreign "control" of education.

B52 crews sought to take up slack in the 1st Corps area, a northern hotbed of opposition to Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government. The Guam-based jet bombers blanketed two suspect enemy staging areas in the border Province of Quang Tri, 110 miles northwest of Da Nang.

Da Nang is the corps area headquarters where about 3,000 demonstrators called for the government's immediate resignation, despite its capitulation to the Buddhist hierarchy's demand for election of a civilian regime within three to five months.

U.S. Marines bumped into a company of Viet Cong 11 miles southwest of Da Nang and exchanged heavy fire with them for several hours. The Marines reported they had killed 12 while suffering light casualties. They captured five weapons and about 100 grenades.

Paratroopers of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade opened a new operation on the border of Binh Thuan and Binh Tuy Provinces, 80 miles east of Saigon. A spokesman said they had killed four Viet Cong and captured 19.

There was an explosive aftermath 10 miles southwest of Saigon to the Viet Cong mortar attack which wrought havoc at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base and killed seven American servicemen and a Vietnamese civilian last Tuesday.

Intelligence sources said they had located at that point a Viet Cong base camp used by the raiders. U.S. Air Force F100 Super Sabres and F5 Freedom Fighters blasted the area in 55 sorties. Spotters said they had set off one secondary explosion and two fires and destroyed 21 structures, 90 bunkers and 3 sampans.

Movies In Abbey

Light Eater

600-Pound Man Still Gaining

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Something started to happen to Raphael Apodaca in 1952, the year he weighed 290.

"I started to gain," he recalls. Since he is a comparatively light eater, doctors want to know why he keeps getting bigger.

Today Apodaca says he tips the scales at 600. That is, when such scales can be found. At the Maricopa County General Hospital, officials couldn't find anything on which to weigh Apodaca when he arrived for a check-up Saturday.

No wheelchair or stretcher could move him to his ward. He finally was mounted onto two mattresses and carried to the ward by forklift.

The 61-year-old patient was deposited in two beds welded together especially for him.

Must Explain Moves

Viet Turmoil Is Government Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—South Viet Nam's political turmoil promises to put the Johnson administration to a severe test in coming months in explaining why it continues to commit large numbers of soldiers to fight there.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk believes Senate Foreign Relations Committee members will raise this question when he testifies Monday for President Johnson's foreign aid bill.

The answer proposed by administration leaders in recent days is along these lines: The government views it as vital to U.S. interests to check Communist aggression in Asia as elsewhere. The Viet Nam guerrilla war cannot be won by military means alone. The Saigon government should have broad support from among the South Vietnamese people.

The turbulent political jockeying there is seen by officials here as the internal process of moving toward a regime which will be more popular, while still anti-Communist, and therefore more effective in the drive against the Red Viet Cong.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and W. Averell Harriman, roving ambassadors, in separate appearances recently, both pointed to the frequent Greek government changes and French government changes after World War II while the United States was supplying massive aid against Communist pressure. Saying that success was nonetheless achieved in those countries, they declared the United States should not turn its back on Viet Nam now because of its political unrest.

A big difference between the Greece-France examples and Viet Nam, however, is that American money but not American lives were at immediate stake if political dissension sapped the domestic anti-Red effort.

Last week's casualty figures from Viet Nam showed that, for the first time, more Americans than South Vietnamese were killed in action. The political trouble has also impeded U.S. arms and economic aid, and some South Vietnamese military units have been diverted to the political maneuvering.

This situation has begun to raise doubts among some of the supporters of Johnson's Viet Nam policy, not just the critics who in the past have opposed

Ellington Concert Is Discussed

The upcoming concert and dance to be played by the internationally known Duke Ellington orchestra, May 4, was the general subject of discussion by the Sedalia Symphony Society at a special called meeting last week.

The Duke Ellington orchestra, which is on its way to Japan for a series of concerts, has been obtained by the Sedalia Symphony Society to present a one-hour concert at Smith-Cotton High School at 8 p.m. May 4. Following the concert, the orchestra will play a three-hour dance at the Agriculture Building at the Missouri State Fairgrounds. Ellington agreed to appear in Sedalia to help the symphony commemorate its 30th anniversary as the Harry James orchestra appeared in Sedalia to celebrate the 25th anniversary.

At the board meeting it was decided that a limit of 250 tickets will be sold prior to the concert, the remaining admissions being granted through annual season tickets in the hands of sponsors and subscribers. It was also agreed by the board that if there were seats available at the concert, sale of additional tickets would be made at the door 15 minutes before the concert is to start.

Tickets for the dance will be sold by board members, through the Chamber of Commerce, and other business establishments, prior to the dance. However, there will be tickets sold at the door the evening of the dance.

H. L. Silberstein, president of the board has appointed the following chairmen: Mrs. John Herring, tickets; Robert Gardner, publicity; Bill Hopkins, artists chairman; Harold Johnson, house arrangements; Dr. A. J. Campbell, transportation.

New Group Set Up To Give Ideas On NATO Withdrawal

Sign Of Increase In West German Influence

BONN, Germany (AP)—The United States, Britain, and West Germany agreed Saturday that French troops in this country be tied in closely with the forces of the Atlantic alliance despite President Charles de Gaulle's pull-out from NATO.

The three nations set up a new body, the first NATO organization with headquarters in the West German capital, and the first without a seat specifically left open for France. This Working Group will be made up of Karl Carstens, No. 2 man in the West German Foreign Office, and the American and British ambassadors in Bonn, George C. McGhee and Sir Frank Roberts.

It was a tangible sign of something that worries many Europeans: an increase of West German influence and a decrease of French influence in the Alliance.

The job of the new group will be to exchange ideas on what should happen after July 1, the date De Gaulle has set for withdrawal of his forces in West Germany from the Atlantic command. The French have two divisions and two air squadrons in Germany, most of their strength near the French border. Officially they have 72,000 men, though some estimates put the actual strength considerably below that.

John J. McCloy, once U.S. high commissioner in Germany, represented President Johnson in two days of talks here. Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder and Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel spoke for West Germany and Sir Frank Roberts for Britain.

McCloy will see Chancellor Ludwig Erhard Sunday. On Monday Schroeder will explore the situation with Maurice Couve de Murville, De Gaulle's foreign minister. On Tuesday the Working Group will hold its first session.

There are two main questions to settle:

1. To what extent will De Gaulle pledge the integration of his forces in West Germany with those of his allies, despite his pull-out from the organization?

2. How can the French troops be made to look like something other than a post-World War II occupation force?

An informed source said McCloy had given Schroeder satisfaction on one point that had threatened to embitter the Bonn talks: American withdrawal of 15,000 men from the 225,000 American troops stationed in West Germany. He was reported to have told Schroeder, on instructions from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, that they would be replaced by the end of the year.

Get Minimum Of Aid

Preparing Slap For Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee is preparing to give the back of its hand to GOP candidates running as segregationists in the South.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, who heads the committee, said in an interview that party senatorial candidates who try to out do Democratic opponents on the racial issue will get a bare minimum of financial aid from his group.

What is even more important, Morton will decline to channel donations from individual party contributors to such candidates. Individuals can contribute up to $5,000 for a single contest.

By tradition, the committee gives all Republican nominees some campaign money. For the average candidate this will be $5,000 or more — for the segregationists $1,000 or less.

"I think it is shortsighted for any Republican running in the South to line up with the racists," Morton said. "We may win a couple of seats with such candidates this year, but we will lose in the long haul."

"I am hopeful these people will see the facts of life and appeal to the Negro voters to take their place in the party of the Lincoln tradition. We must go after the Negro vote in the South, as well as in the North."

Morton declined to comment on individual candidates. But he seemed satisfied that Republicans will take a moderate stance on racial issues in Senate races in Arkansas, Georgia, North Carolina, Texas and Virginia. He obviously was not so pleased about the prospects in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina.

Political strategists credit Republican candidates with their best chance of winning in Texas and in one of South Carolina's two races, where GOP incumbents are running. They are hoping to strike gold by ousting Democrats in Tennessee and in Virginia, with two seats at stake in the latter state.

Morton, who urged such a course late in 1964 after Barry Goldwater's defeat in the presidential election, said he agrees with the recent report of Republicans for Progress and Republican Advance that Republicans must offer programs that will attract Negro voters.

"Let's face it," he said, "the

Three People Drown In Lake; Two Rescued

McPHERSON, Kan. (AP)—Three persons from Wichita drowned Saturday in a lake near McPherson on a family outing. Two women were rescued.

Sheriff Dale Bishop said the dead were Eual Dempsey Stafford, 45; his son, Eual Earl Stafford, 23; and Earl's daughter, Vicki, 5.

The women were Mrs. Connie J. Stafford, wife of the elder Stafford, and Mrs. Patsy Stafford, 22, wife of the younger man.

Witnesses said the five persons were in a 12-foot flat-bottom boat that capsized about 75 yards from shore in a lake on the Maxwell Game Preserve 14 miles northeast of McPherson.

One of the women swam to shore. The other clung to the boat and was rescued by a man who swam out after her. Both women were taken to the McPherson hospital for treatment of shock and exposure.

Rescue squads from Salina, Lindsborg and Newton joined in the search for the bodies.

OBITUARIES

Henry C. Poese (Concordia)

Henry C. Poese, 70, Concordia, died at his home there Wednesday.

He was born in Corder, Nov. 6, 1895, son of Martin and Christine Kessler Poese. He was married in Corder, Oct. 5, 1919, to Agnes Viets.

Surviving are his wife, of the home; his mother, Mrs. Martin Poese, Concordia; a son, Wilmo, Kansas City; two daughters, Elvina Fritz, Omaha, Neb.; and Mrs. Florence Street, Memphis, Okla.; two brothers, Norbert Poese, Buckner; and Clarence Poese, Omaha, Neb.; two sisters, Florence Nienheiser, Concordia; and Mrs. Marie Meinershagen, Phoenix, Ariz.; seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Saturday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Concordia, of which he was a member. The Rev. W. J. Wollenberg will officiate.

Burial will be in the St. Matthew Cemetery, Ernestville.

The body is at the James Funeral Home, Concordia.

Woman Tells Of Being Bound And Helpless

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — A woman who had lain bound and helpless for several hours in her home finally knocked a telephone to the floor and described her plight to an operator and then to police.

Mrs. Connie Decker, about 35, told police she had been robbed. Her legs and arms were bound with stockings and she had a bruise on the right temple.

Police said she was frightened and nearly incoherent when they arrived Thursday afternoon. She was hospitalized, suffering from severe shock.

Contents of a small bureau were scattered on the floor of the room. There was some money on the floor.

Her husband is William M. Decker, Jr., a chemist for the American Oil refinery at near Sugar Creek.

Cost Of Groceries Jumps In Two Cities

CHICAGO (AP) — The cost of groceries in Missouri's two largest cities took a good jump in the past year.

The regional office of the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Thursday the food index in St. Louis for March showed a 7 per cent climb over a year ago, while in Kansas City the hike was 6.8 per cent.

The Kansas City consumer price index for March reached 115.3, a rise of 6.6 per cent since last December and an advance of 2.9 per cent above the level of April 1965.

In St. Louis the index for March hit 112.1, up 5 per cent from December and 2.8 per cent above the level of a year ago.

The index is based on 100 per cent for the 1957-59 period.

55 Persons Die In Train Dynamiting

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Smoldering tribal rebellion in eastern India's jungle has burst into bloody violence with the dynamiting of a passenger train that killed at least 55 persons and injured 120.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's government, which had thought the revolt was tamped down, announced a powerful time bomb, planted by saboteurs, blew the roof off a passenger coach standing in Assam State's Lumding railway station late Wednesday night.

Reports from the eastern city of Calcutta said Naga tribesmen, who have been fighting New Delhi's control for years, were blamed for the train disaster, the second in three months. Two time bombs ripped the Assam mail express on the same line Feb. 16, killing 38 persons.

In the Lumding explosion, passengers sitting in the coach and standing on the station platform were mangled. So many of the injured were critically hurt that it was feared the death toll would rise.

Dr. Ram Subhag Singh, minister of state for railways, told Parliament the explosion was clearly sabotage. He said the time bomb had been planted in a first-class compartment and reported police were looking for two unidentified men who stepped off the train, leaving behind two heavy boxes, shortly before it reached Lumding station.

Mrs. Gandhi, who said Tuesday she had been having "satisfactory" negotiations with Naga leaders, issued a statement saying she was "shocked at the gruesome news" from Lumding.

Lumding is about 350 miles northeast of Calcutta, in the heart of Naga country in southern Assam. Just a few miles south of there, Mizo tribesmen have been fighting the Indian army for two months.

The Nagas and Mizos want the same thing—Independence from the Indian federal union.

tion bills were changed by the House committee. The Senate versions were hammered out in hours of debate.

Young told the committee Wednesday night he had to work hard to get the bills through the Senate and cautioned against any substantial changes.

The legislative package is designed to bring Missouri into compliance with the federal highway beautification act of 1965. One bill provides for the regulation of billboards. Another would regulate junkyards along major highways. A third would authorize the State Highway Commission to purchase and develop scenic sites for rest stops and recreational areas.

Without some legislation on the state level, Missouri could lose up to $23 million in federal road funds, proponents argued.

On the scenic area bill, the House committee extended it to all federal and state highways. The Senate had restricted it to interstate and federally designated highways.

With changes, the House version of the billboard bill cleared the committee on a 19-12 vote. It was 19-13 on the junkyard bill and 26-5 on the scenic areas proposal.

The laws will not go into effect until January, 1968. But, proponents said, it is necessary to get something on books now.

Regulations for outdoor advertising will be drawn up by the Secretary of Commerce.

Most lawmakers agree the bills this year will have to be reworked by the state legislature next year to comply with the federal regulations.

Other Courts

The Sedalia Democrat and Capital learned this week that these newspapers had erred in certain content of a news item published January 14, 1966 in the Daily Record column on this page under the caption of Other Courts.

The item referred to a circuit court jury trial in Cooper county on a charge of venue from Boone county. The defendant was William "Bud" Barlish of Houstonia.

The jury returned a verdict of assault and did NOT return a verdict on a more serious charge as was incorrectly published in the newspapers on the date mentioned.

In justice and apology to Mr. William Barlish this retraction is made voluntarily by The Democrat and Capital newspapers.

Accidents

A passenger in a west-bound vehicle complained of head and neck injuries after a two-vehicle collision at the intersection of Highway 65 and North Grand Ave., about 10:35 a.m. Thursday, Trooper Pete Stohr, State Highway Patrol, said.

Involved, he reported, were a 1964 Ford pickup driven south across Highway 65 by Leonard Rettig, 32, Woody's Trailer Court, and a 1963 Plymouth driven west on Highway 65 by Leslie Reynolds, 48, Independence.

Mrs. Virginia Reynolds, 45, complained of head and neck injuries, and was taken by ambulance to Bothwell Hospital where she was treated and released.

Trooper Stohr said the left front of the pickup collided with the right side of the Plymouth. Damage to both vehicles was extensive.

A Highway Patrol summons was issued to Rettig, charging him with careless and imprudent driving by failure to yield right of way, the officer said.

Police Reports

Sedalia police reported Thursday evening that Cynthia Ann Piers, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Piers, 107 South Quincy, was picked up by Windsor police after being missing from her home since April 15.

Also taken into custody was the girl's companion. Sedalia police informed the girl's parents that she had been found and she was released to her parents late Thursday.

Sedalia police received a report at 3 p.m. Wednesday of an alleged break-in at old Broadway School building. Police received information from Lindsey Hayden, who said he noticed several boxes in the school basement were broken open about two weeks ago.

Officers said a small bottle of menthol alcohol was reported missing. Material in the building is listed as belonging to General Service Administration, Neosho. Mo. Full-scale inventory is scheduled, police said.

Police took into custody Thursday two juveniles who, it was reported, were attempting to gain entrance at a house at 916 South Kentucky. The boys were talked to by officers.

Science Fair Set At CMSC On Weekend

Some 350 exhibits from 25 to 30 area schools will be set up Friday for the seventh annual Science Fair at Central Missouri State College.

First prize winner goes to the national fair at Dallas, Tex., May 11-14. Second place winner gets the Navy Cruiser Award. Encyclopedias and science books are among the many other awards.

Exhibits will be in three areas — physical sciences, biological and mathematical — and in four divisions — senior, junior, intermediate, and primary.

Dr. Richard Myers, chairman of the Fair, said most of the entries will be in the intermediate and junior divisions.

Exhibits will be set up in Morrow Gymnasium between 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Friday. Judging will begin at 7:30 p.m. Neither exhibitors nor spectators will be allowed in the area during judging.

Exhibits will be open to the public from 9 a.m. through the afternoon on Saturday. Awards will be made at 3 p.m. Saturday in Hendricks Hall Auditorium.

81-Year-Old Man Has Five Days To Register For Draft

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Dr. Benjamin J. Ersland has five days in which to register with his local draft board, the Selective Service advised him by mail.

"I'm going to sit this out and see what they do next," Ersland said with a chuckle Wednesday.

At 81, Ersland has 12 great grandchildren and was too old for the draft in World War I. He figures Selective Service will soon catch up with its mistake.

Stealing Charge Is Filed Against County Public Administrator

MARSHALL, Mo. (AP) — Thomas G. Dyer, missing Saline County public administrator, Thursday was charged with stealing $271.33 from an estate in which he had been appointed the guardian.

The charge was filed by Allen Parish, county prosecutor, who said the investigation "still is pending in other cases."

Dyer, believed to be the youngest officeholder in the state when he was elected to the post at the age of 21 in November, 1964, has been missing since Feb. 24. Parish said the man's family had received word that he was in Winnipeg, Canada, March 31.

Man Pleads Guilty To Second Degree Murder

MILAN, Mo. (AP) — A man, who fired six bullets into his wife when he found her with several men at a tavern, Thursday pleaded guilty to a charge of second degree murder.

Gary W. Billington, 22, of Greencastle, was charged with first degree murder shortly after the crime, Jan. 21, 1965. He appeared before Circuit Judge G. Derk Green after the charge had been reduced to second degree murder. Judge Green deferred sentencing until May 2.

Billington was subpoenaed and disarmed by tavern patrons after the shooting. His wife, Delores, 23, died the next day in a Kirksville Hospital.

$133.2 Million Suit For Damages Filed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Cincinnati woman, injured in two traffic accidents, filed a $133.2 million damage suit Wednesday in U.S. District Court, charging she was unfairly treated by two insurance companies and a judge.

Last November, Shirley J. Estes won a $22,000 verdict in Judge Frank M. Gusweiler's Common Pleas Court in connection with one of the accidents.

Mrs. Estes' latest suit asks $66 million apiece in punitive damages from the insurance companies, and an additional $120,000 in compensatory damages from the companies and Judge Gusweiler.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given pursuant to the terms of said deed of trust and at the request of the holder of the note and obligations secured by said deed of trust, to pay the costs and expenses of the execution of the trust, the undersigned successor trustee will on Tuesday, May 10, 1966, between the hours of ten o'clock in the forenoon and five o'clock in the afternoon at the west front door of the Circuit Court House in the City of Sedalia, in the County of Pettis and State of Missouri, sell at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash in hand the real property described in said deed of trust, to-wit:

The South 3.10 feet of Lot 4 and the north 34.90 feet of Lot 5, Block 6, COUNTRY CLUB ADDITION, an addition to the City of Sedalia, Pettis County, Missouri.

Also all fixtures, personal property, and equipment of every kind and character belonging to the first party, and located in and used in the operation of the building situated on said property, together with all replacements or renewals thereof including, but without in any way limiting the foregoing general language, the following articles: Day and Night Electric Radiators, automatic gas water heater; door and window screens; Crosley Automatic Electric Refrigerator; and window shades and such personal property as is furnished by a landlord in rental of premises.

Also all disappearing beds, ice boxes, mechanical refrigeration units, equipment for heating, lighting and cooking in the building, and window shades and such personal property as is furnished by a landlord in rental of premises.

Also all fixtures, personal property, and equipment of every kind and character belonging to the first party, and located in and used in the operation of the building situated on said property, together with all replacements or renewals thereof including, but without in any way limiting the foregoing general language, the following articles: Day and Night Electric Radiators, automatic gas water heater; door and window screens; Crosley Automatic Electric Refrigerator; and window shades and such personal property as is furnished by a landlord in rental of premises.
